Taking the Chill out of Winter

KELLY J GILL and THE HIRED GUNS
Submitted by Gwen Arthur, Redvers Arts Council

Kelly J Gill and his backup band 'The Hired Guns' are passionate about their music. On stage they are a "crazy bunch of cutups"! Those are Kelly's words used to describe his band mates - Neil Atkinson on bass, Wayne Honig on piano and Grant Honig on steel guitar. Kelly's music is a mixture of country western, blue grass and classic rock. He has a true story-telling style that keeps his fans and audiences wanting more. His songs are on topics the audience can relate to - like dusty roads, small towns, old grudges and old tractors.

Kelly's love for and interest in music began when at the age of 6 he found and started playing his mother's 12 button accordion. From there he learned to play the piano and guitar. All this talent has led up to the present where he is writing and performing his own songs. Kelly formed the band 'The Prairie Travellers' and played with them for 18 years across the southern prairies. Added to his busy schedule with the band, he held down two daytime jobs - cattle ranching and battery operating. After leaving the Prairie Travellers, Kelly embarked on a solo career in Nashville. His first solo album 'One More Mile' was recorded in Nashville and won the award for "Best Country Album" sponsored by Akademia Music in Los Angeles, California. His song 'The Stranger' went to #1 on KMIX, a country music radio station in L.A. His song 'Another 26 Oz Illusion' is also climbing the charts in L.A.

The Redvers Arts Council is pleased to present this talented Saskatchewan musician to our community. Come on out on Saturday, Feb. 23, 2019 at the Redvers Legion to be included in 3 hours of fun. The doors will open at 7:00. Starting at 7:30 you are welcomed to 'get up and dance' or enjoy the fun from your seat. Advance tickets are $20.00 and are available at Bill Murray's Store or by calling 306-452-3370. Tickets at the door are $25.00.

DEPARTING THE DOLDRUMS

Submitted by Jocelyn Hainsworth

We are almost through the Winter Doldrums.

For those of you who are unfamiliar with the term 'doldrums' it means a period of listlessness or despondency. A second definition describes it as a part of the ocean where the winds are still and sailing ships can be stuck there for months. Combine these two meanings and add the word 'winter' and there you have it ... JANUARY.

There is a lack of sunshine and warmth. The party season is over, the Christmas cookies have all been consumed, and everywhere we turn there are advertisements for trips to tropical beaches. When it seems like we can't go on any longer we check our calendars and see it is only the 16th. Is this why Bell's Let's Talk support day for mental health is in January? Coincidence? I think not.

As of this week we have managed to tip forward into the new month of February. Sure, the glare off the snow is still blinding, and the air still hurts our faces, but somehow it feels like we are on the right track. We can't touch spring yet but we sense we are headed in the right direction. Day by day, at two minutes 9 seconds per 24 hour unit, our daylight is lengthening back out. Part of us wants it to hurry up, and the other part wants to savor the days leading up to the summer solstice. We all know there is no joy in how quickly the light retreats after June 21st.

There are other signs of hope, as well. Not only are the seed catalogues arriving but gardeners themselves are re-awakening. From the bleak online landscape of cat videos and cleaning-out-the-closet online garage sale items the odd picture of greenhouse plans or last year's landscaping projects are materializing. I belong to a Facebook group called Gardening in Saskatchewan whose members had all but gone dormant since the end of November. Lately our membership have been getting the itch to play in the dirt, to watch green things grow. Every day now there are pictures of green and growing things to perk up our spirits.

And, once we begin to think of green and gardens, we are encouraged to delve into summer plans. Family reunions, camping trips, swimming pool days and bonfire nights: it's time to organize. Personally July is looking busy for me again this year, first with Canada Day Celebrations and then another garden tour later in July to appreciate the gorgeous work of local gardening talent. Those things just don't happen – there needs to be meetings in February if we are going to party in July.

It's thoughts like these that get me through the doldrums. For some reason the hardest part of my personal Doldrums inertia has always been meal planning. Maybe it's coming down off the year end sugar high, but I can never think of anything interesting to cook in January. This year though, my winter torture has been multiplied with a new problem. This time last year I was in sunny, hot Australia and apparently I posted pictures of beaches and mango trees and sea shells every ... single ... day.

Good old Facebook, feels the need to remind me of this every ... single ... day.

It's like being haunted by my past. I sure wish those cold winds outside would fill my virtual sails and push me forward – completely out of the Doldrums.

One of the main goals of the LSWC is to provide water stewardship education. We have been reaching out to schools in our watershed for educational presentations and activities. In the fall of 2018, we had the opportunity to visit Redvers School, Kipling School, Oxbow Prairie Horizons School, as well as a field day with local 4-H clubs, with more classroom visits coming up this spring.

We have been invited to Teresa Cowan's Grade 6 class in Redvers for the past few years. During our time there, we have presented on watersheds and the role we play in protecting our watershed, play water bingo, use a watershed model to demonstrate sources of contamination, and play an outdoor game where we show how water travels slower through healthy riparian areas with vegetated and curved channels, among other activities. We also did a presentation and activities with the Environmental Science 20 class at Kipling School discussing watershed stewardship, healthy soils, types of contamination, imagery and technology, and more.

Currently, in conjunction with the Saskatchewan Association of Watersheds, the Lower Souris has launched the annual poster contest for Grade 5-7 students attending school in our watershed. The theme is "Wetlands and Wildlife". Each submission needs to be hand drawn original work on 8 1/2" x 11" paper done in any medium. Prizes are awarded at the watershed level based on creativity, accuracy of the knowledge and information presented, and artistic ability. The first place poster in the Lower Souris then moves on to the Saskatchewan Association of Watersheds (SAW) conference to be held in Moosomin in April where it will be judged along with the top posters from other watersheds across the province. The grand prize is $500 and a $500 prize for the winner's classroom. For more information on the poster contest and for entry forms, please contact us today at 452-3292.

Lower Souris staff can provide fun and educational opportunities for all age groups in a classroom setting or on a field trip. We enjoy teaching our young watershed residents all about watersheds and what they can do to help preserve our water resources. We invite any teachers, parents or youth group leaders who are interested in having us out to do a presentation or field trip to give us a call.

REDVERS HOSPITAL EMERGENCY SERVICES
STATUS CHANGE
Submitted

The S.E. Medical Group is pleased to announce the change to the Classification of the Emergency and On Call Services at the Redvers Hospital which has been upgraded to Class "A" by the Saskatchewan Health Authority effective January 7th, 2019. Prior to this the hospital has been operating as a Class "B" facility which is the classification assigned to smaller care facilities. Class "A" designation is assigned to facilities servicing a larger catchment area with a high volume emergency department. This upgrade provides an increase to the government funding received for the services provided in the emergency room and while Physicians are on call, in turn increasing funds available to the S.E. Medical Group for Physician salaries.

For anyone who is not familiar with the S.E. Medical group, it was formed in 2016 and includes the Towns of Redvers and Carnduff, the Village of Storthoaks and the R.M.s of Antler, Reciprocity, Storthoaks and Mount Pleasant for the sole purpose of recruiting Physicians and providing financial support. Funds received from the Saskatchewan Health Association assist in covering Physician wages but are only received when the community supports and uses the local Doctors to ensure a continued higher volume of patients and subsequent increased funding.

Who else is glad January is over? January always feels like it is 100 days long after all the excitement and build up after Christmas! We did have some fun though!! On Jan 26th a group of 20 of us created beautiful and filled Succulent planters. It was a great night and a big thank you to Quennelle Greenhouse and Sandie Quennelle for coming to do that for us!!!

Luckily February is here to save the day and we have lots of fun stuff planned to make the month fly by!! Starting with a Cookie Decorating Party on February 12th. We have to send a very big Thank You to Advantage Co-op for sponsoring all the supplies for us! There are three times to join in on the fun and it is a $2 donation to hold your spot! And for more Valentine's Day fun, we have a sweet surprise for all the chocolate lovers in the crowd. On Feb 14th, we are having a Giant Chocolate Kiss class. For a donation of $15 to cover supply costs, you get to make a giant chocolate kiss, get a snack and get to bring home the funnel used to make the Kiss. Next up is our Needle Felting workshop on Saturday, February 23rd when participants can make super cute felt sheep and kitties to take home. There are still a couple of spots left, so contact us to save one for yourself! This event was generously funded by South East District Sports, Culture and Recreation and is FREE to all those who would like to attend! And to round off the month, we are fortunate enough to have Chad Solomon, author of the Rabbit and Bear Paws books coming to the Redvers School on Thursday, February 28th at 2:00 to do another Muppet presentation for us. Chad was here a couple of years ago, and the kids loved his performance!! This event is open to the public so feel free to join us for the show!!
