Winterfest Fun for All Ages

Winterfest 2018
Submitted

The streets were bustling on December 8th with local residents and visitors from throughout the region. Winterfest 2018 was packed full of events for attendees to take part in. The day saw community organizations and individuals come together to create a fun-filled day for everyone! Whether it was the Santa photos, Gingerbread House Decorating Contest, Musical Entertainment, Bingo or the Memory Tree Light-Up...there was something for all ages.

INTO THE UNKNOWN
Submitted by Jocelyn Hainsworth

Here we are, our bodies still trying to process turkey leftovers and shortbread cookies and our minds still a little overwhelmed from sleep deprivation. We are lost in the endless succession of Sundays that always accumulate at the end of December. We've crammed more eating and partying and visiting into these days than we normally take on in any other six month stretch. There is no shortage of inspiration for New Years resolutions.

While trying to fight off my self-induced food fog these past few days I've tried to focus on the end of one year and the beginning of the next. The human brain gives a lot of importance to new beginnings and we especially like starting out a whole new year. There are always things that we want to change in our lives ... our weight, our education, our job, our lifestyle ... any of which could be tackled on March 23rd or August 7th just as well, but here we all are – excited for the first day of the first month. Again.

I know that if the power to change exists it resides in our own resolve not in some numbers on a calendar, but I too am a devotee of THE FRESH START. I too have chosen a few self improvement projects to work on in the New Year. Foolishly, they are mostly repeats of other year's resolutions ... if there was any magic in "new numbers" I wouldn't have a single bad habit left after 01 01 2000. I had to smile today as I sat with my morning coffee, enjoying the sunrise (it's already 10.5 minutes earlier than it was last week!). My usual metaphor to describe the empty slate of fresh new options a New Year affords us is the untouched blanket of snow in our front yard. I remember I waxed poetic the year I retired about the endless possibilities there were before me – no trails I had to follow, no barriers to hinder me; there must have been a very fresh snowfall the day I wrote that one. All I can say that if 2013 held true to that 'clean slate' prediction, 2019 looks to be one heck of a busy year in comparison.

Imagine what five days of four kids being towed on a tobaggan behind a quad being followed by three dogs does to a pristine blanket of snow. And then someone came with a ski-doo. And the dogs felt the need to drag a deer carcass up in front of the house. And the boys were sent on a treasure hunt all around the yard. There may be six or seven patches of untouched snow out there, but mostly it looks like someone's been playing Jumunji for a week and the animal stampede made several passes through the yard. What does this say for my future? Crazy busy? Lots of exercise? Massive confusion? Going in circles?

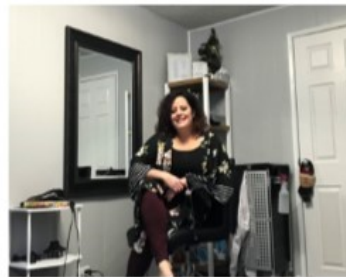

And what about that deer spine and hide, and all the bits and pieces of animal carnage out there? Does that mean we are about to witness the apocalypse out our front door? And on a more practical note, will it be the snow blower or the lawn mower that will discover all those big bones?

I won't even try to guess the possible predictions associated with yellow snow and the other lawn ornaments left by the Three Stooges.

What it comes down to is that 2019 is as big a mystery to us now as 2018 was a year ago. Whether we have set ourselves lofty goals, or just plan to carry on with the same old same old, we will all be stepping into the unknown when the clock strikes 12:00 on Monday night. May we be wise enough to make the best of it.

Redvers and District Lions Club

From everyone at the Redvers and District Lions Club, we hope you had a very Merry Christmas and a fantastic New Year's Eve!!! December was kind to us with mild weather and we took full advantage of it on the evening of December 17th by roaming the town on our "horse power" drawn sleigh and singing Christmas carols to fundraise for the local Food Bank. A big thank you to everyone who donated, whether it was money or food items, it is all needed and we are grateful for your generosity. And to those brave souls that stood by and listened with smiles on your faces, your kindness will never be forgotten and we will accept bribes to leave sooner next year. ;P

Update on Trip of the Month, tickets for the 2019 draw are almost sold out with only a handful left. Contact Tracy Kay to get one of the last tickets if you still need yours. And winners of the December prizes are Jamie Real as the $100 prize winner and Jenna Axten as the winner of the trip to Los Cabos! Congratulations Jamie and Jenna, and thanks for supporting your local Lions club.

December 15, 2018 ~ The first week of December was busy in our little Bellegarde corner.

Card games are back! Players meet every Tuesday and Thursday to test their skills in the game of 500 at the Francoloft in the new community spaces at the Bellegarde Hall.

December 5th was a full day of programming at the French community centre. The day started off with musical programming for parents/grandparents and their little ones at the Petits Crayons play group. And after school was the LEGO club meet. The theme was winter holidays and the young participants exceeded expectations with original and very creative ideas.

Left: Delphine LeNouail calling the Christmas Bingo in Bellegarde December 7th. A fundraiser event for local youth club activities.

December 6th, the fundraising committee for the trip to Quebec 2020 partnered with École de Bellegarde to put together a theatre presentation. Appetizers were served during the evening and two plays brought the crowd to applause. Close to 150 guests attended the plays. The French production was presented by grades 7 and 8, directed by their French teacher, Miss Cassandra Poirier. The English play was presented by grades 9 and 10, directed by their English teacher, Mrs. Colette George.

December 7, the festivities continued with the traditional Christmas Bingo. Bingos in Bellegarde have been popular since the early 1900s. This year the event was organized to help with youth club expenses. More than 80 people attended the evening and about 20 gift prizes were given out, each generously donated by community members. Eight volunteers came out for the evening, some of them committee members and others were young leaders in the community, such as Delphine LeNouail who called the events, Marlie Wolensky who looked after the canteen, and Shaune Reimer who handed out prizes.

And that was just the first week of December! École de Bellegarde has their Christmas Concert coming up on the 18th, and the big celebration for the December 28 holiday season at the Community Centre is not to be missed! There will be presentations for the nominated candidates at the Fransask Gala; Braden Magotiaux as Sports Leader and Erica Carlsen for her efforts to learn French and contribute actively to the Francophone Community. We are very proud of them and their accomplishments. The evening will include a presentation to Lisette Préfontaine for her nomination and win as a Board of Director showing most outstanding dynamism at this year's Fransask Gala in Saskatoon. A prestigious award she most certainly earned after over 25 years of volunteering on the French Community Centre's board. In addition, during the evening, there will be a presentation to Mr. Joseph Poirier for more than 40 years in the service of education. And of course, the hunt for the Ace of Spades continues in the Chase the Ace competition. Joyeux Noël!

Haven Happenings - Submitted

HAPPY NEW YEAR! We trust all enjoyed family and friends over the recent holiday season. A brand new month of a brand new year. Time marches on and waits for no one. Speaking of time – we are walking through time to the WILD WEST in January and February. Watch for our wild west themed crafts/activities/exercises etc.

Phil Wilk will be our first 2019 entertainer on January 3rd! The following week, the Caragana Ramblers from Kisbey/Forget way will entertain on the 8th. Keith Olsen is back January 17th and the Happy Wanderers on January 25th. Weather permitting Mr. Ed James is back on Monday January 28th. Most performances start at 2:30.

Musical entertainment is the universal attraction for the residents here at the Haven. Everyone enjoys music & we encourage the public to take in our entertainment as well. We also very much appreciate your help with covering the cost of same. A silver collection jar is usually out and of course we also accept donations big or small.

A REMINDER: the activity room and or family conference rooms are available anytime for a family or families to come together with their resident friend/family member and enjoy a private time with them. We encourage you to use our activity room after 4 p.m. any day.

Please note. Visiting the long term care facility? Please use the entrances on the east side. Park in the parking lot east of the garages just off of Dr. Arthur Avenue and follow wheel chair ramp unto terrace. Visiting a hospital patient after 5 p.m. or on the weekend? Please use the hospital emergency entrance.

Here we are in 2019! I hope everyone had a fantastic Christmas holiday, ate too much turkey, drank too many drinks and were surrounded by the ones they love the most.

With the New Year upon us, many of us are looking at resolutions for the upcoming year. If taking more time to read or learning a new skill are on your list, now is definitely the time to come see us at the Library! With SILS, we have almost every book, on every subject, in the province available for you to borrow. And if trying something new is on the top of your list, we have a couple of spots left in our Succulent Workshop with Sandie Quennelle on January 26 at 7:00 pm, so contact Michelle at the Library or by cell 1-306-452-7734 to get one of those last, coveted spots!! Cost for class is $40 and a $20 deposit must be made by January 17th to ensure your spot.

And in family fun, we have our Makerspace Wednesdays back!! This month we will be featuring the Mini Button Maker so come on in and make some cute buttons to take home with you at no cost! So maybe grandma has some hockey pictures she wants to wear proudly around or your little one has picture of her favourite kitty that she needs to take with her everywhere. Mini Buttons require pictures with a maximum 1" focal point, if you are bringing your own, or there are blanks that can be designed, as well!

Keep an eye on our Facebook page to keep in the loop with all our goings on or programming changes or additions. (Look for "Redvers Public Library Branch, Southeast Regional Library".) Our monthly calendars are always pinned to the top so you can easily find out what's happening and times and dates. Also, watch for our upcoming Needle Felting workshop registration in the middle of the month, with the class taking place at the end of February!

The Library is back to regular open hours on Wednesday, January 3rd at 3:00 so stop in!!!!

Provincial Sleep Group is a private allied health clinic specializing in the diagnosis and treatment of Obstructive Sleep Apnea.

A Registered Nurse from our Estevan location will be travelling to Redvers to provide individual sleep testing services out of the Redvers Medical Clinic. Services provided will include education, a sleep-focused health assessment and no charge sleep testing that can be done at home.

Common symptoms of Obstructive Sleep Apnea are snoring, excessive daytime fatigue and stoppage of breathing during sleep. Talk to your physician about a referral or visit our website at www.psgi.ca to take our sleep apnea quiz. For more information, please contact us at 306-636-2727.

The Knights of Columbus Council of Redvers recently undertook a re-construction of the crucifix at the Redvers Cemetery, a big improvement to the original one that was likely about 60 years old. Council members Earl Cunningham and Elmer Doell removed the old post and then created a new one after extensive repairs to the Corpus Christi. Then a group of members, including Raymond Lamotte, Marc Wolensky and others assisted in the replacement. Many thanks to Earl and his son for use of his front-end loader, trailer & shop. A great improvement—Should last for many years!

Kids and adults started the day with full stomachs thanks to the pancake breakfast. The Golden Age Centre was busy all day with people trying their luck at Bingo and taste-testing the delicious goodies available. Those in attendance also enjoyed the musical performances of Suzanne Millette, Diane Potapinski, Amanda Chicoine, Brooklyn Ewert and Morgan Huenison, Jenna Aulie, Mr. Kirk and his music students, and École de Bellegarde. Others popped in to check out the artistic creations that were part of the Gingerbread House Decorating Contest.

Kids and adults alike spent time combing through Redvers in hopes of finding holiday decorations that were part of the town-wide scavenger hunt. Our visitors from the North Pole not only stopped by to take pictures with the little ones, but spent the entire day here visiting local businesses and popping in and out of the numerous events being held. Santa and Mrs. Claus were a real treat to have visit. We haven't decided yet who enjoyed them the most...the kids or the adults?!

Some of the littles spent time bouncing away their energy in the bouncy castles, while others stopped by the Christmas tattoo station. The craft and trade show was busy all day with shoppers and a diverse selection of vendors. If you didn't have a chance to stop by this year, you won't want to miss it next year! Our weather was beautiful for a second year in a row, but if your toes got a little chilly from all of that event hopping, you were able to stop by the Hot Chocolate Bar where 4 flavours of hot chocolate were being served up.

The school gymnasium was a full house for the new release Small Foot. Those in attendance were able to fill their stomachs with all kinds of good stuff... popcorn, chocolate bars, pop and more! Our "Ride in Santa's Sleigh" winner was announced with Braeley Hoff being the lucky winner of this year's contest. Braeley, Kinsley and Jasmine Hoff rode with Santa and Mrs. Claus during the Santa Claus parade.

A special addition this year was the Memory Tree Light-Up where treasured loved ones were honoured during the ceremony and the lighting of the evergreen on Main Street. A favourite each and every year is the Firefighter bonfire with our local volunteers serving up warmth and delicious chilli.

The parade was a hit again with youngsters lining the streets in hopes of catching one final glimpse of Santa and Mrs. Claus...and catching a few candies too of course! We are so lucky to have businesses, organizations and individuals take the time to enter floats into the parade. It really is enjoyed by all ages.

Our "Deck the Town" Holiday Decorating Contest meant the town was beautifully lit for both of our twinkle tours. Winners of this year's contest in the Commercial Category were: First Place – 7L Place, Second Place – Class Cut Full Body Salon and Third Place – Today's Furniture & Electronics. Winners of the Residential Category were: First Place – Will &

Cheryl Johnson, Second Place – Jody & Mandy Jorgensen and Third Place Tie – Leon & Lorraine Magotiaux and Randy & Tricia Pickard. Those attending Winterfest were able to enjoy the Christmas decorations in the warmth of the Handi-Van or in a horse-drawn wagon filled with family and friends.

Low estimates see Winterfest as having more than 700 attendees this year. Visitors came from throughout the region including the communities of Gainsborough, Radville, Pelly, Carlyle, Moosomin, Arcola, Weyburn, Maryfield, Storthoaks, Alameda, Carievale, Tioga (North Dakota), Elkhorn (MB), Reston (MB), Haywood (MB), and Brandon (MB) to name just a few.

The Winterfest committee is focused on offering family-focused activities that are of low to no cost for all in attendance. This is only possible due to the amazing support we receive from our sponsors. A HUGE thank you to the following businesses and organizations for making Winterfest 2018 possible: Redvers District Development Corporation, Redvers Tourism, Canadian Energy Services, Today's Enterprises, Pharmasave, Redvers & District Lions Club, Redvers & District Oil Showcase, Affinity Credit Union, Redvers Family Foods and Godenir Farms. In kind sponsorship was received from: Advantage Coop Redvers, Redvers School, Redvers Skating Club, Subway, Maryfield Auditorium, Town of Redvers, Doug Simpson, Redvers Hotel, and Nelson Motors.

The Winterfest 2018 Committee would like to sincerely thank the following organizations and individuals for hosting events throughout the day. Without their efforts, Winterfest would not have been the event that it was. A big thank you to the: Redvers School, Redvers School Student Council, Golden Age Centre, One Church, Patricia Verhelst, Redvers Activity Centre, Redvers Fire Department, Redvers Library, Redvers Recreation Centre, Tiffany Holtom, ACFBellegarde and B-Prepared Safety Training.

Several individuals and businesses helped wherever they could. With all of our events this year, we had many helping hands. If we have missed anyone, we sincerely apologize. A big thank you to: Dale Turton, Janet Dauvin, Derrick Ulmer and the Gr. 10, 11 & 12 Shop classes, Chylisse Marchand and her Art students (Olivia Aime, Jessica Magotiaux, Makayla Matthewson, Amber Tinant, Hillary Matthewson), Crystal Aime, Sherry Stewart, Deb Duke, Karen Dangstorp, Darlene Gervais, Pat Alelunas, Suzanne Metzger, Gail Sutter, Louanne Jonassen, Real Magotiaux, Dean Sutter, Owen Gavelin, Sandie Quenelle, Murray Aulie, Ryan Aulie, Brooklyn Garnier, Corinne Orsted-Bulbuck, Josh Orsted, Ben Orsted, Brad Bulbuck, Terri Cameron, the Silver Lotus Boutique, Pharmasave, Safety Source and those who donated candy.

The Winterfest Committee is looking forward to next year already! Don't forget to mark your calendars! Always the second weekend in December, Winterfest 2019 is scheduled for Saturday, December 14th!

Why can't you play hockey with pigs?

They hog the puck.

Why was Cinderella such a poor hockey player?

Her coach was a pumpkin.

The Redvers Rec Centre was a buzz on December 8th. Teams travelled from surrounding communities to take part in Minor Hockey Day. Pictured above is the 6 & under (Initiation) Team.
