THINGS WE TAKE FOR GRANTED

Submitted by Jocelyn Hainsworth

Back in my pre-retirement days, when I was still driving to town for a pay check five days a week (and that routine was starting to get pretty old) there was nothing that would brighten my day more than seeing one of our many town squirrels scampering along the power lines above me as I drove down Main Street. How could a fun thing like that not make my day?

Except for a short period, I've lived my entire life in this community, and although technically I'm a farm girl, I have always called this town "home". I've worked here, I've played here, learned, healed, and volunteered here. I know it like the back of my hand. Not only do I know the streets, but I know who they are named after. It's kind of scary to admit, but I've been here for half of this town's history. I've witnessed original buildings being demolished and their replacements being built. I've watched it grow from the vantage point of its Postmaster, I've served it as a municipal councillor, I've helped write its history book.

That sounds like a lot, and I suppose it is, but the thing is I'm not alone. In a small town such as ours, everyone wears multiple hats. Whether we have been here all along or are new to the party, we all offer up our energy, ideas, and time to make this a great place to live. You could pick any time of the year to demonstrate what a powerful community life we have here but let's run with right now.

I'm not on the committee that organizes the Oilman's Showcase every second year but I recognise what a massive undertaking that is. Take into consideration that the community which hosts the alternate years is ten times our size and then be sure to give our guys and gals a huge pat on the back.

There's our civic strength too: the local governments, spearheaded by the Recreation Board, sponsor events and are working hard to provide a splash park and needed pool upgrades. The school is hosting a picnic – a fun way to support expanding their playground equipment.

Our Library Board organized the annual town wide garage sale and is sponsoring a self defense for women seminar. It seems they always have something on the go.

Our local service clubs add their contributions to our lives – the Wildlife Federation treat us to a fish fry every June, and the money the Lions raise in their many events is given back to the community for projects that benefit us all.

Last year's Lobsterfest was so successful that our local firemen are doing it again this year – a very pleasant way to support their very important work.

Because we are treated to such an array of things to do, it's hard not to take it all for granted. The best way I've found to appreciate what others do, though, is to join them – not only do 'many hands make light work' but the satisfaction of serving your community is a feeling best shared. Being a part of a greater whole is a wonderful feeling.

And, if you happen to spot one of our squirrels scampering across a street in a high-wire act? Something that fun and random has to be counted as a bonus.

REDVERS SOCCER CLUB

Submitted

Redvers Soccer Club consists of 103 kids from the ages of 4 to 15 in the club this year. The club has 16 volunteers coaches for all the age groups. There are three U5 teams, three U7 teams, two U9 teams, a combined u11/13 team and one u15 team.

The club plays against Oxbow, Stoughton, Wawota and Carlyle soccer teams. The U7 and other groups play on Tuesdays and all the teams play on Thursdays. The Redvers soccer board consists of Vice President Sandie Quennelle, Secretary Ana Gray, Treasurer Jessica Wolensky and our Goal Line Organizer Jenna Axten. Graham James, Devin Brisebois and Stacey McColl also sit on the board.

We are hoping that the weather is in our favour on soccer evenings so the kids can have fun and run and play this season!

We are always looking for volunteers and board members and are currently looking for someone to step into the vacant president spot of our club. Thank you to all our helpers and volunteers, without you all our Soccer club could not happen!

REDVERS OIL SHOW 2018

Submitted

The 2018 Redvers & District Oil Showcase came to a close last week. Attendance numbers and exhibitor feedback has yet to be reviewed; but all indicators point towards another year of high quality foot traffic yielding a high quality vendor experience.

The Oil Show Committee would like to thank all of the organizations and sponsors that helped make this show a success. Over the next few months we will be working hard to ensure that all of you are compensated for your efforts through target advertising and donations when applicable.

Lastly, but not least; we would like to ask all citizens of Redvers to provide us with any/all feedback for the show. This show is structured to benefit our region, however at the end of the day it is people local to Redvers that are affected most by the influx of visitors and as such we want all of you to know we are interested in what you have to say. Do you feel that it is worth the effort? What can we do to change the venue to better suit your needs? How do you feel funds from the show should be allocated? Feedback can be sent to redversoilshow@hotmail.ca - Attn. Matt Axten.

Well Hello June!!

Hope everyone found what they were looking for (and maybe a little more) at the Town Wide Garage sale this past weekend! Thank you to everyone who registered.

So much happening in June! Every month I tell myself that next month won't be so crazy, and then I end up eating my words! First of all, we want to congratulate all of the Graduates of Redvers and Bellegarde schools. We wish you the very best of luck in your future endeavors. And for those of you heading off for post-secondary education, come get a library card from us and save those extra pennies for the weekends! ;p

Summer is almost upon us and that means the shutdown of our regular kids programming. Last week of BlockHeadz, Storytime, and Tot Time will be the week of June 11-15. But with that being said, TD Summer Reading Club is on the horizon!! Summer Reading Club (or SRC) is for kids ages 6+ and runs every Thursday in July from 1:30-3:00. At SRC we read books, do crafts, play games and activities and finish up with a healthy snack. Pre-registration is mandatory and will open on June 12th. This year's theme is Feed Your Passions!!

TOURISM REPORT

Submitted

Well, we're up and running! This past month has been a busy one as our Tourism Board prepared for the 2018 season. Our winter months are pretty low energy, but as the temperatures begin to rise signalling summer is on the way the pace picks up at the Log Cabin.

The month of May is especially busy. We do a cleanup bee of the campground and log cabin, and have our merchandise consigners come in to set up their displays. The town crew came to flush out the water lines and make sure everything was working. Interviews were held to hire our needed summer help. Our picture boards are back up, the planters have all been filled, and the gazebo gardens have been planted. By our big opening day, May 19th all was ready; you could tell before you even walked in the door ... it smelled like fresh brewed coffee and hot Saskatoon pie.

With those tasks behind us we move on. We will be participating in the Redvers and District Oilmen's Showcase on the 30th and 31st with a table promoting our campground and raising awareness of what we have planned for the summer – especially Canada Day. We are really excited about what we have in store this year! Hopefully you dropped in to see us, purchased tickets for the pitchfork steak fondue and learned what else we have planned! As always we had a draw for a fresh Saskatoon pie each day. Congrats to the lucky winners.

In preparation for July 1st we are putting together a list of people who would like to join the fun by volunteering for an hour or two to help us out. We need to fill some two hour shifts in the concession booth and are looking for a few more people to apply the sparkle tattoos we are treating little kids to. If you can help us out please drop in to the Log Cabin or call 306-452-3276 and let us know.

This summer we are trying something new – a tour of some local town and country gardens on July 14th. This is aimed to be a fun, relaxing day for gardeners to get together and see what different people do with their outdoor spaces. The day will end up back at our gazebo garden for visiting, refreshments, and door prizes offered by all our local greenhouses. While researching this idea of a tour I learned that Garden Tourism was one of the fastest growing areas of tourism in Canada and yet, since it such a new idea here, we're not sure what to expect. Expectations wobble back and forth from a sold out success to a dismal failure. Time will tell, but this self-professed gardening nerd thinks it will be great fun.

Because of this gardening theme we asked the Piecemakers Quilting Club to make us a flower themed quilt for our annual raffle this year. Be sure to get your tickets – the quilt is gorgeous!

As for the daily business of running a campground, we are very happy with the bookings we already have for the summer – there are graduation bookings already and family reunion and wedding reservations throughout the summer. The season started off on the right foot with several campers using the campsites before we were even open. 2018 feels like it might be an awesome year!

REDVERS ARTS COUNCIL TO BRING MAGICIAN TO TOWN

Submitted

Keegan has been doing magic for over two decades. At the age of thirty-four, he's been performing magic for most of his life. He has performed stage shows all over Saskatchewan, Alberta, and British Columbia.

Keegan's stage persona has been described as witty, self deprecating, clever, and silly. Children and adults love this type of show because of Keegan's outlandish personality that can make anybody laugh.

Join the Redvers Arts Council and Keegan for a magical Canada Day! Keegan will be at the Redvers Log Cabin performing walk around magic from 2:00—3:00 p.m., followed by a magic show on the Main Stage at 3:30 p.m.! You won't want to miss it! He will continue his performance by creating balloon animals from 4:15 to 5:15 p.m.. Keegan can make just about anything requested. From dogs, cats, horses, dragonfly's, and fish all the way to Spiderman, Dr. Octopus, T-Rex and yes, even a bicycle.

REDVERS WILDLIFE ARCHERY CLUB

Submitted

Redvers Wildlife Archery Club, spearheaded by the coaches and executive, hosted an Indoor 3D Archery Shoot on May 6, 2018. With 45 archers attending, the group deemed it a success. A little history, many years ago the club hosted this very indoor shoot with archers travelling great distances to attend. As 3D shoots lost their way over the years, the club hosted an outdoor 3D shoot hoping to bring a new vibe to the sport. For many years the club successfully held these outdoor 3D shoots, however weather caused many issues as it seemed to rain every weekend the shoot was planned causing a lot of hard work to fall to the wayside. After several years of discussing bringing back the indoor 3D shoot, the group finally made it happen!

With twenty life-like 3D animal targets for both youth and adults to shoot at in a two round format, the archers had a lot of fun! With targets ranging from 20 yards to 60 yards, only a few arrows were wrecked from missed shots hitting the cement of the Redvers Recreation Centre or a piece of plywood covering the plexiglass.

Highlights at the shoot were the “Moving Raccoon” built by Brian LeNouail and family using a garage door opener. It was the crowd favorite by far as the little guy came from behind a bush and the archer had to shoot it while moving. Talk about good hand eye coordination! Climbing up a scissor lift, which was donated by DB Electric, was also an interesting aspect. This “climb up” mocked a tree stand feel which proved to be both nerve wrecking yet exciting for the archers, especially the youth who had never hunted from a tree stand point of view before. All archers were thrilled to have this opportunity. For lunch “Moose Chilli” was prepared and donated by Greg & Sandie Quennelle with almost the entire pot consumed either with a bun or in a chilli dog format. Yum!

Last, but not least was the “Iron Deer” shoot. This iron deer was donated a few years ago by MagnaFab, now known as D4 Services Ltd., and has proved to be one tough deer. Made of steel, the name of the game is to try and shoot the arrow in the spot that is not steel, just a one foot open hole. Not an easy feat as adults shot from approximately 50 yards and youth from 20 yards. If you did not hear the heart wrenching “TING!” you knew you hit the sweet spot or missed altogether. Many many many arrows were wrecked and many toonies were tossed into the bucket to try their hand at this crazy game. Any archers wishing to participate paid a toonie to shoot one arrow at the deer. If you missed you got to lick your wounds, hope your arrow wasn’t completely wrecked, and try again for another toonie. If you shot the arrow into the hole, your name was entered into a 50/50 draw. Winners pictured are Greg Quennelle for the adult archers and Miles Nord for the youth archers.

Many door prizes were on hand with a great assortment from the local businesses. The generosity from the community was overwhelming! Just for participating your name was entered into the door prize draw so everyone left with a little something. Pictured here is Ken Martel raffle winner of the tree stand which was donated by ERP Prohardware.

The Long Term Care Activity department wishes to express their sincere appreciation to each and every one that supported them at the recent garage sale June 2. We especially thank all those Redvers Health Centre staff members and the Condo residents that generously donated 'items for sale'. Our June 2, 'Chili Sundae' was also well supported and we'll shout out another thank you for that! Bouquets to those that volunteered: Jen Belisle, Linda Wilvers, Linda Perreau, and Hazel Sylvestre, Pat Reimer, and Donna Jamieson. Would not have happened without you!

HUGE bouquet to Phil Wilk for entertaining us May 31. He has quickly become a very popular and favored music man. Thanks for putting your construction on hold to entertain our residents and others who joined us for the afternoon. We took the opportunity to make a draw for our raffle: last minute ticket buyer Kathy Matthewson won the blue & white tea basket! We thank all those who bought tickets. Phil tells us he'll be back – June 28- mark your calendars! Other entertainers slated for June are: the ever popular Keith Olsen June 4; Sharps 'n' Flats June 14; Ed James for the monthly birthday party June 20th; and the Happy Wanderer's June 22. The universal draw for our folks is live musical entertainment. We so appreciate all those that share their talent and their time with us. We also very much appreciate those who donate funds to provide the entertainment. Thank you!

June will also bring the graduating class to model their dresses for us: we'll celebrate Father's Day: and we are travelling "Under the Sea" in our destination challenge. We do enjoy the milder weather: residents appreciate the east side terrace & south courtyard. We are hoping our plans for a new feature on the terrace will make it even more enjoyable. Watch for further news! When one is confined to a wheel chair or a Broda chair being outside in the fresh air is a gift!

Please note. Visiting the long term care facility? Please use the entrance on the east side. Park in the parking lot east of the garages just off of Dr. Arthur Avenue and follow wheel chair ramp unto terrace. Visiting a hospital patient after 5 p.m. or on the weekend? Please use the hospital emergency entrance. We know it says emergency only but there is no other door into the hospital that is accessible after 5p.m. or on the weekends.

Have a great JUNE - signing off 'til July!

A woman brought a very limp duck into a veterinary surgeon. As she laid her pet on the table, the vet pulled out his stethoscope and listened to the bird's chest. After a moment or two, the vet shook his head and sadly said, "I'm sorry, your duck, Cuddles, has passed away.

The distressed woman wailed, "Are you sure?"

"Yes, I am sure. Your duck is dead," replied the vet.

"How can you be so sure?" she protested. "I mean you haven't done any testing on him or anything. He might just be in a coma or something."

The vet rolled his eyes, turned around and left the room. He returned a few minutes later with a black Labrador Retriever. As the duck's owner looked on in amazement, the dog stood on his hind legs, put his front paws on the examination table and sniffed the duck from top to bottom. He then looked up at the vet with sad eyes and shook his head. The vet patted the dog on the head and took it out of the room.

A few minutes later he returned with a cat. The cat jumped on the table and also delicately sniffed the bird from head to foot. The cat sat back on its haunches, shook its head, meowed softly and strolled out of the room.

The vet looked at the woman and said, "I'm sorry, but as I said, this is most definitely, 100% certifiably, a dead duck."

The vet turned to his computer terminal, hit a few keys and produced a bill, which he handed to the woman. The duck's owner, still in shock, took the bill. "$150!" she cried, "$150 just to tell me my duck is dead!"

The vet shrugged, "I'm sorry. If you had just taken my word for it, the bill would have been $20, but with the Lab Report and the Cat Scan, it's now $150."

A Perfect Marriage?

A man and woman had been married for more than 60 years. They had shared everything. They had talked about everything. They had kept no secrets from each other, except that the little old woman had a shoe box in the top of her closet that she had cautioned her husband never to open or ask her about.

For all of these years, he had never thought about the box, but one day, the little old woman got very sick and the doctor said she would not recover.

In trying to sort out their affairs, the little old man took down the shoe box and took it to his wife's bedside.

She agreed that it was time that he should know what was in the box.

When he opened it, he found two crocheted dolls and a stack of money totaling $95,000.

He asked her about the contents. "When we were to be married," she said, "my grandmother told me the secret of a happy marriage was to never argue. She told me that if I ever got angry with you, I should just keep quiet and crochet a doll."

The little old man was so moved; he had to fight back tears. Only two precious dolls were in the box. She had only been angry with him two times in all those years of living and loving. He almost burst with happiness.

"Honey," he said, "that explains the dolls, but what about all of this money? Where did it come from?"

"Oh," she said. "That's the money I made from selling the dolls."

EMERGENCY MEASURES REPORT USING TECHNOLOGY DURING A DISASTER

Submitted

We rely on technology more to keep in touch with our family, friends and colleagues with a click of a button. But what happens in the event of a major emergency? Suddenly these tools can become vital in helping you and your family deal get in touch and stay informed. So here are some tips on the use of technology in an emergency:

- If possible, use non-voice channels like text messaging, email or social media. These use less bandwidth than voice communications and may work even when phone service doesn't.
- If you must use a phone, keep your conversation brief and convey only vital information to emergency personnel and/or family. This will also conserve your phone's battery.
- Unable to complete a call? Wait 10 seconds before redialing to help reduce network congestion. Note, cordless phones rely on electricity and will not work during a power outage. If you have a landline, keep at least on corded phone in your home.
- Keep extra batteries or a charger for your mobile device in your emergency kit. Consider getting a solar-powered, crank or vehicle phone charger. If you don't have cell phone, keep a prepaid phone card in your emergency kit.
- Keep your contacts up to date on your phone, email and other channels. This will make it easier to reach important contacts, such as friends, family, neighbours, child's school, or insurance agent.
- If you have a smartphone, save your safe meeting location(s) on its mapping application.
- Conserve your smartphone's battery by reducing the screen's brightness, placing your phone in airplane mode, and closing apps you are not using. You never know how long a power outage will last!

Remember, in an emergency or to save a life, call 9-1-1 for help. You cannot text 9-1-1. If you are not experiencing an emergency, do not call 9-1-1. Alert Ready is designed to deliver critical and potentially life-saving alerts to Canadians through television and radio. The Alert Ready system is developed in partnership with federal, provincial and territorial emergency management officials, Environment and Climate Change Canada, The Weather Network and the broadcast industry to ensure you receive alerts immediately and know when to take action to keep yourself and your family safe.

National Public Alerting System

The Alert Ready program also sends life-threatening emergency alerts to cell phones and wireless devices that are compatible with Wireless Public Alerting (WPA). For more information, visit the Alert Ready website.

SIGN-UP FOR ALERTS—Android and iOS Apps

If you have an Android mobile phone or tablet, install the SaskAlert App to receive alerts.

SaskAlert - Download the SaskAlert app for your IOS and Android devices to get information about critical events right to your fingertips. Emergency alerts answer the important questions like: what is going on; where it is happening and what you need to do to keep you and your family safe.
