ALIDA WRECKS, TOURNAMENT WINNERS!!

HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL

Submitted by Jocelyn Hainsworth

Well, all the signs are there: it's actually light out by the time we are having breakfast, my fellow members of Gardening in Saskatchewan are coming out of dormancy and inquiring if they should be planting their pepper plants yet and my sister asked me when we should start our geranium cuttings. It must be almost 'first spring'. I even took a few minutes and joined the dog and cat out in the warm sunshine on the deck yesterday – the first time I've been out there that it didn't need shoveled off in three months.

Facebook is full of announcements of playoff hockey games ... another sure sign. Auction sale catalogues are starting to show up in the mail and our husky dog is into shedding so much if I saved up for three days I'm pretty sure I could knit a new dog.

My desire to hang laundry out on the line is driving me crazy. I would just go ahead and do it except that the line is only a foot or so above the snow banks at the moment. In fact the whole yard feels like a walled city right now with all the snow that's been pushed up to keep the driveway clear. Our ditches are convex instead of concave. In this land of irony the hose we disconnected from our basement sump pump to bring water from the dwindling dugout last fall will need to be reinstalled to keep our basement from flooding this spring. Not that I'm complaining – so glad Mother Nature decided to give us the moisture, just saying she sure does like to keep us on our toes.

There is warmth to the sun when it comes out, some days it even gets hot enough in my greenhouse to melt the snow off its roof, although it will be quite some time before I will be putting any tender babies out there. There will be several 'false springs' before that happens, but I know if I could get the door open it would smell like warming soil in there.

I had planned to plant a smaller vegetable garden this year. We just don't need that much and there are more fun things to do than pull weeds and can beans. But now I hesitate. I watch the news and worry about what will come next. We have just come through two years that if nothing else, has taught us how small this world is. How easily we are tipped into toilet paper shortages. Somehow an egotistical maniac with delusions of grandeur and a nuclear arsenal at his disposal makes a global pandemic seem quaint in comparison. What will happen to our supply chains and our cost of living now? Maybe another big garden would be a good idea – if only to keep me too busy to worry too much.

The truth is my problems – our problems as Canadians – are miniscule at the moment. I do not have to make the decision to run for my life or fight for my country. I am thinking about how big my garden should be when I plant it in three months, not where will I be in three months. My grandchildren are safe in their homes with both their parents there to protect and provide for them. I live and speak from a position of safety and privilege that the Ukrainian people can only dream of. I am humbled by their courage and resolve, and that of those protesting the war in Russia. The stakes couldn't be higher.

Facebook is full of pictures of sunflowers today. Apparently they are the national flower of Ukraine. Whatever else goes into my garden this summer, I will be planting lots of those. I hope that by the time they are in bloom peace will be restored to Ukraine.

Thoughts about St. Patrick's Day

Zailey – On St. Patrick's Day, I just wear green and do St. Patrick's Day crafts with my brother and my grandma.

Kaycee – My favourite St. Patrick's Day is when the leprechaun brought us gifts because our old nanny Celine is Irish.

Regan – I like pinching people on St. Patrick's Day when they are not wearing green.

Hunter – What I like about St. Patrick's Day is we sometimes go to our grandpa's.

Hayden – My thoughts about St. Patrick's Day is that I don't think it is that fun because it is just another day and all you do is make leprechaun catchers. My favourite part is when you wear green and leprechaun hats and my family has no St. Patrick's Day traditions.

Lucas H. – St. Patrick's Day is a day to celebrate luck.

Kinsley – My favourite part of St. Patrick's Day is putting out smarties, so the leprechaun can eat them, and then I can catch him and see what he looks like!

Serenidee – I like it because we wear green that day.

Kyler – I don't think much about St. Patrick's Day, but I do wear green or else I might get pinched.

Kamri – My favourite thing about St. Patrick's Day is putting out bread so the leprechaun will have something to eat. He eats it all up because he is so fat.

Christian – My favourite memory is when I walked into the bathroom and saw that the water was green.

Seth – I like St. Patrick's Day because it only comes once a year, but my family doesn't celebrate it.

Lucas M. – My most memorable St. Patrick's Day was when my grandma got me a little green suit.

Olivia – I like St. Patrick's Day because I like dressing up for it.

Halle – I think that St. Patrick's Day is a unique holiday. It is a very fun holiday to do with your kids, and teaches more about the leprechauns and how they love money and riches.

Tate – My favourite part of St. Patrick's Day is how you are supposed to wear green or you will get pinched.

Kelton – St. Patrick's Day means to me that you may be lucky if you see the leprechaun or catch him.

Tye – It is a day when you wear green and if you don't, you get pinched.

Will – St. Patrick's Day is when people wear green to represent leprechauns.

Ashlyn – My favourite part about St. Patrick's Day is if you aren't wearing green, we pinch you. It's funny when someone forgets and you get to see their reaction.

Hope everyone had a very Happy Valentine's Day on February 14 enjoying the day with your special someone.

Welcome to Peter and Joy Primmer who have now made their new home here in Alida. They purchased the former Boettcher house on 1st West Street (right across from the Hall). They originally hail from Manor. Peter works in Safety at Vertex. Welcome folks – hope you'll enjoy your new home here in our little town.

The Alida community extends their sincere sympathies to the following families who have unfortunately lost a loved one:

The Alida Curling Club held their 1st Annual Oilmen/Farmer's Bonspiel with eight registered teams. When the first two games were completed on Friday evening the eight teams saw themselves being auctioned off. This was a very successful event for the curling club. Clurling began again when the auction was completed and this eventually brought the first day to a close. Following breakfast Saturday morning the curling continued in earnest for the second day. Results of the bonspiel were as follows: A-event was won by Team Boutin Oilfield Service of Carlyle. This was also the top team to be sold and purchased by Gold Star (Lloyd East). Team Gold Star Services of Alida came in second; they were sold to the "Old Timers" (The Junks). The B-event was won by the Cowan Farms of Alida who were purchased by Corey Jensen. Coming in second was Team Signature Safety Ltd (Aaron/Betty DeJong) of Lashburn and they were purchased by P & K (Pete/Kevin). Following the bonspiel a beef supper was served to approximately 95 guests including all participants. This brought the event to a close, with a reminder to watch for the next event - the Alida's Ladies One-day Bonspiel.

Sunday Breakfasts at the Rink: 1) February 6 – had Kitchen Group #4 at the helm serving up 49 breakfasts – This is now the new Breakfast Challenge total. 2) February 13 – saw Kitchen Group #1 serving up 40 breakfasts – always great to see the Redvers guys coming over every week and giving us their support – appreciate it fellas. 3) February 20 – had Kitchen Group #2 at the helm serving up 30 breakfasts. 4) February 27 – had Kitchen Group #3 in charge and they served up 41 breakfasts. Way to go everyone – remember there's only ONE month (4 Sundays) left for this year's Sunday Breakfasts at the Rink. Hope to see you there.

Shelly and Ainsley Cowan spent a few days (February 19-24) in Minot visiting with the Nilsen family and enjoying a few days of holidays.

The 2022 Winter Olympic Games in Beijing came to a close on February 20. Hope you had a chance to watch some of these games and enjoyed them as I did. Canada came away with a total of 26 medals – Way-to-go Canada. The next Winter games will be held in 4-years in Italy.

Family-Day was February 21 – hope everyone enjoyed this special day with their family. This was also the beginning of the February School Break. Again hope everyone enjoyed the school break – always nice to have that break from school. It's back to school on Monday, February 28 which will likely show some difference rules back in order – No masks for one thing which will be appreciated by most. Enjoy but continue to Stay safe while out and about.

The Alida Ladies One-day Bonspiel was held on Saturday, February 26 with six teams registered. As always most of the teams came all decked out in their finest "Get-up": 1) Team Under Cover Agents – (Jean Ball, Margaret Peet, Brenda Junk, Anita Boutin); 2) Team Wide & Heavy – (Lindsey Humeniuk, Cheryl Ohander, Dawn Eilers, Samantha Peet); 3) Team Beauty Queen – (Melissa Gervais, April Junk, Diane Potapinski, Sheri Patton); 4) Team Sweeping Beauties – (Michele Anderson, Skylar Mailhiot, Stephanie Campbell, Kara McNish); 5) Team Witchy Ladies – (Marcia Gervais, Shelly Cowan, Melynda Charles, Ainsley Cowan, coach Edel Cowan); Team Fringe Minority Convoy – (Shandi Boutin, Aly Poirier, Rayna Real, Tristen Boutin). At 9:00 am.

four of these teams began showing off their curling skills as well as how NOT to walk on very icing ice (resulting in no broken bones, thank goodness). Results of the bonspiel were as follows: A-Event: was won by Team Wide & Heavy when they defeated Team Fringe Minority. B-Event saw Team Beauty Queens winning over Team Under Cover Agents. A very good time was defiantly had by all participants and the spectators as well. Also during the day a Trade Show was held with five Vendors showing off their wares. A Silent Auction table was on display with many great prizes to be had and at the end of the evening these items were soon drawn for. The proceeds of this auction brought in a total of $1300.00 which will be donated to the Cancer Foundation of Saskatchewan. A fried chicken supper was served to approximately 90, who wished for a change in the rink food menu, this included the curlers.

The Alida Wrecks Hockey team also hosted their annual Hockey Tournament on Saturday, February 26 with four teams participating. The results of this tournament were as follows: The Alida Wrecks won the trophy when they defeated Storthoaks 4-3. Team Bellegarde placed 3rd and Team Maryfield 4th. Over all it was a good tournament.

Good-bye February – Hello March and a Happy St. Patrick's Day to everyone on March 17.

MARCH 2022 HAVEN HAPPENINGS

Submitted by Barbara Dennis

Time has marched us right into March!! After the cold and snow of January and February we are all hoping for a mild and pleasant March. Why just the other day residents spoke yet again of wanting to sit out in the sun and just enjoy the warmth on their face. Here's hoping it will be sooner than later. We do hope a warmer day will coincide with a Handi-Van booking so mobile residents can get out for a tour of the snowbanks around about town.

In the interim we keep busy with all manner of activities. Bingos and dice games, shuffleboard and bowling, a curling tourney is in progress, and there is always a reason to celebrate. Canadian Agriculture Day Feb 22, 2022 was applauded for the variety of food we are blessed with. You have heard the saying: "If you ate today, thank a farmer." There will be a St. Patrick's Day party and of course March monthly birthday party. Recently we tried our luck at horse racing. This is done with plastic horses of various sizes and dice. Here Jim Clark holds his jockey number to claim his ownership of the title of 2 time champion. Jim reminisced of years past when the local fairs held horse races and he was a competitor. He did not claim he was the winner then – but he is now!

Another activity that is very popular here at the Haven is Bat Ball. Played with a bat made out of a pool noodle and a balloon for a ball. The object of the game is to keep the balloon moving and residents young and old enjoy it. Our most senior resident at 102 tells me that it is her favorite game: she is not alone in her enjoyment..

We are in need of musical entertainment. We have a piano that is in need of a player. {It has a date with a piano tuner mid-March.} At time of writing restrictions are: all must wear a mask. Our usual entertainers have declined our invitations (no apology needed). It is hard to sing and or play a saxophone wearing a mask. So we are looking for mask wearing piano players or anyone who plays an instrument, who would be willing to come and play a little. You do not need to be professional or even extremely gifted, we will appreciate any effort you are able to give – PLEASE – our piano and our residents needs YOU. Call 452 – 4003 to arrange a time.

I will sign off this time wishing everyone a Happy St. Patrick's Day and the Irish wish : may March's road rise to meet you and friends be there for you.
