ALIDA MARCH HAPPENINGS

Submitted by Edel Cowan

Want something different to do now? Come to the Alida Golden Gate Centre on Wednesday forenoon and enjoy a cup of coffee, game of cards, a puzzle or a craft. The ladies are fully enjoying the outing – just remember a yearly membership is needed and this allows one to participate in any event being held at the Centre. Come out bring some ideas to share so we all can enjoy something new to do during this shut-in season, before spring arrives – See you there.

The Alida community wishes to extend a big Welcome to Colin and Lois Chenard of Victoria, BC who have now made their new home on the acreage west of Alida (formerly Kailey Betts/Albert Germain acreage). Welcome folks hope you'll enjoy our little community.

Julie Potapinski of Thunder Bay, ON was visiting from March 14-18 with her parents, Ken, Diane Potapinski and spent time with her brother, Colby, Celine, nephew Walker and became acquainted with her new little niece Laney. They also helped Julie celebrate her birthday on the 14th – Happy Belated Birthday Julie.

Lil and Leonard Patton had a special surprise when they returned home after having supper out – their daughter, Wendy Lutzer was waiting for them. She arrived March 16 to spend time visiting with her parents and her brother Trevor, Sheri and family. She returned to Calgary March 22.

On Saturday, March 18 Tim, Shelly and Ainsley Cowan travelled to Weyburn where Ainsley participated in her dance class competition, the class placed 2nd. They then travelled to Minot where they

The Alida community extends sincere condolences to the following who recently lost family members: 1) Don and Georgia Britt on the death of his mother, Barbara Britt.

2) Alice Berner (including members of the Berner, Harrison, Jackson families) on the death of her husband Art Berner (of Assiniboia) on March 11, 2023.

Faye Walker spent from March 23 – 26 in Saskatoon where she visited with her family, Deidra, Jeff Nickel and granddaughters. While there she also attended the funeral of her sister-in-law Barb Walker on Saturday, March 25.

On Saturday, March 25 Alida was overtaken by numerous snowmobiles as the drivers had stopped for a break while on a rally route through the surrounding area. Hope everyone had a good safe ride – the weather was surely on their side, beautiful.

The Breakfast Challenge ends on a High note – Sunday, March 26 was the Last Sunday Breakfast at Alida Rink for this winter season. Kitchen Group #3 was at the helm and served 70 breakfasts. Yup – the Breakfast Challenge has been broken – record is now 70, Way – to – go everyone – a job well done and we'll see you back next year. Have a good summer – will miss seeing those from the surround towns who came to help support our rink.

Tim, Shelly and Ainsley Cowan spent Sunday (March 26) afternoon in Regina where Ainsley participated with her dance group in a dance competition. They also visited with Jeff and Raylene for a little while before returning home.

The Alida Rec. Board is planning a yearend event – The Alida Rink Windup on Friday, March 31 from 5-8pm. The kitchen will be open – last chance for a rink burger for this season. Come enjoy an evening out with visiting, games of cornhole, cribbage or other card games – there will also be free skating. Hope to see you one last time at the rink.

ACT ONE PRODUCTIONS – “I TAKE THIS MAN”

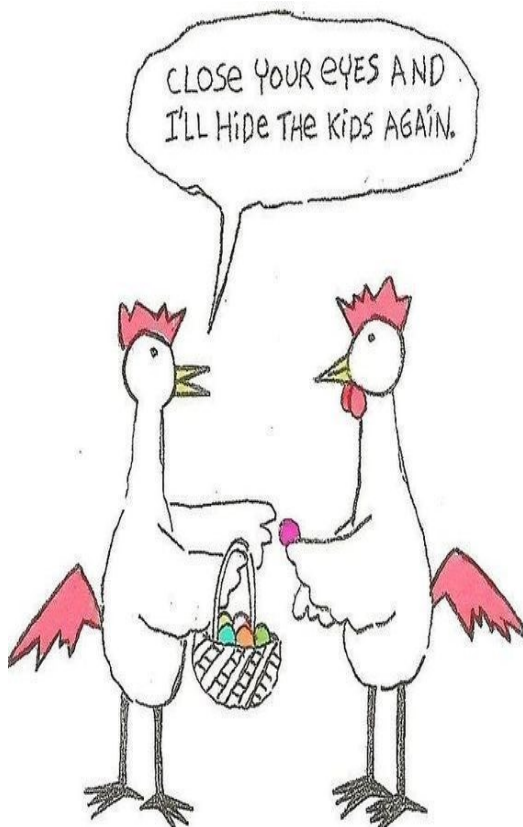

Submitted by Edel Cowan

After a four-year hiatus Act One Productions was back. The Hall was soon decked out ready for Act One Productions to present their play “I take this man” by Jack Sharkey. This year the play was set in an apartment building in the Back Bay section of modern-day Boston, Massachusetts right after the annual Boston Marathon was wrapping up. Giddy, who was always on the lookout for love, happens to stumble upon who she feels is finally “Mr. Right”! Complications quickly escalate in this outrageous comedy as the day progresses as new developments come to light in Giddy’s pursuit for love!

Our cast was: Rachelle Smith (5th year acting) claimed the role of Gideon (Giddy). Wes Smith (8th appearance with Act One) had the role of Bret, a handsome young Bostonian man that finds himself in the middle of the action. Sheldon Kyle (his debut with Act One) took on the role of an overly helpful and rather daft police officer, Jud. Shanna Carriere (23rd year on stage) found herself playing the role of Charlene, the beautiful nurse who gets unexpectedly wrapped up in her roommate’s search for love. Tim Cowan (24th consecutive year on stage) plays the role of Dec, Charlene’s good-looking fiancé who tries to make some sense of what is going on in his fiancée’s mixed up world!

This year Act One was honored to dedicate this performance to the memory of Lynette Peet. Some of the decorations throughout the hall were very colorful hearts made by the Arcola school students who had been taught by Lynette in their kindergarten class – they did a marvelous job. Thanks to the students and of course to the teachers for letting them participate in making these decorations. While entering the hall – the foyer transferred you to Boston as it was decorated with Marathon paraphernalia and Hubert, who was very exhausted after his run, did his best to greet you. Hope you were able to attend one of the nights. Thursday and Friday Cocktail evenings went off without a hitch, except for the surprise winter storm which arrived Friday evening. It made it difficult for some to make it home, took way longer to make their miles. It continued to storm all day Saturday which made it unfit for travel, blocking roads etc. – something had to be done about drama! It would be the first time in 27 shows that they were forced to cancel their supper theater. It would be moved to Sunday night with times remaining the same – the Matinee at 2:00 followed by the Supper Theater at 6:00 and show at 8:00. It could be done.

On Sunday morning everything was buried under snow, we had to shovel steps off in order to get out the house. Of course one had to wait for the snowplows which were busy opening up streets, lanes and roads before one could move vehicles around. Come Sunday afternoon there was a small but enthused group at the Matinee. They enjoy the show and especially the cookies and drinks available during the breaks and after the show. Then we got busy, cleaning and preparing the hall for the Dinner Theater by setting the tables, come five o’clock our volunteer hostesses, waitresses arrived, followed shortly the guests. Before one knew it the hall was full and the delicious supper was underway. Once this was finished, cleaned up completed the show was underway again. Everyone was enjoying the show. During the second intermission the $1000 ticket raffle was drawn and the lucky winner was Jordan Beriault, Alida. Congratulations Jordan! The evening came to a close – once again a job well done everyone. There was then much visiting among the guests and cast before the lights were turned out. It was a great way to finally see Drama week end. Hopefully Act One Productions will be back again next year.

RECOGNIZE HONOR CELEBRATE

Submitted by Jocelyn Hainsworth

Last week a bunch of us (and by 'us' I mean local volunteers) met for a quick noon hour meeting to touch base and share information about what each of our individual groups were planning for the year ahead. On a practical level the benefits of this are obvious – we can coordinate our efforts and grow the event status for the town (ie: if the Chamber of Commerce knows when things like ball tournaments are on they can add things like sidewalk sales the same day). It just makes sense to pool our energy in promoting our community as a whole. There is a side effect to these meetings, though, and that is the feeling of camaraderie when people of diverse interests, but common goals, get together. It's not all business; it's good to visit with our peers as well.

One of the many topics that surfaced in this meeting was volunteer appreciation.

Volunteers are the life blood of everything we try to do. They are invaluable to our community, and yet while their work is vitally important, the people themselves end up standing in the shadows of what they have accomplished. It's not that they are offering their time and talents for glory or fame, but so many times they don't even hear their name mentioned when the work is done.

As Fate would have it, a day or two after this meeting an email arrived announcing that Volunteer Appreciation Day was coming up on April 20th. This letter also offered a whole range of ideas of how to thank volunteers. The part that caught my attention was that they had used the same three words that I had been thinking about : recognize, honor, and celebrate. This is exactly how we should show our appreciation to people whose work benefit us all.

I hesitate to use the word 'work' though. It gives volunteerism a bad reputation. It makes it hard to recruit new members. Nobody wants to take on more 'work'.

I am reminded of when I was a kid and doing the dishes was a job that my sisters and I had to do. It was drudgery. It took forever. We argued constantly about who did what. It was a fight every night (sorry Mom). But then, when the extended family got together for a big meal and there were countless more dishes to do it was the adult women who cleared up and did the dishes. They did the much larger job with cheerfulness, conversation and laughter in half the time. The only difference was attitude; I don't know how old I was when this truth finally dawned on me.

I do know, though, that when a group of volunteers are working on a project together this same kind of magic happens. I've said this before many times: "Many hands make light work!".

Being a volunteer is a vitally important contribution to the community in which we live. It's how we build our community but it's also what makes our community worth building. It's where we weave our lives together, where friendships blossom and grow, where we build a collective resilience to weather setbacks and build on our successes.

Their work is so valuable we could never afford to pay them, but our town wouldn't exist without them: that's how important they are.

So, say 'Thank You'. I know to a large extent that means this means mutual 'thank you's' back and forth as so many of us are the very volunteers we wish to honor, but it's important that we recognize each other. And for once people, don't be so humble. When someone thanks you for the work you do, accept the praise – you have earned it!

Go ahead – celebrate your good deeds! You are the true Hometown Heroes.

It's bike season.

Safety is in full bloom this Spring!

With Spring fast approaching, the Carlyle RCMP would like to remind everyone about the importance of intersection/crosswalk safety. As the weather gets warmer, community members of all ages will have more opportunities to enjoy the outdoors.

According to Saskatchewan Government Insurance (SGI) over 45% of all collisions within Saskatchewan occurred at an intersection. (based on the five-year average 2017-2022).

This is an extremely high number and I am happy to share some tips to help you and others stay safe this Spring:

Pedestrians:

- Only cross streets at intersections and do not cross in the middle of the block or between parked vehicles;
- Always look both ways before crossing the street and make sure the oncoming vehicle has come to a stop before stepping into the road;
- Wear appropriate clothing and shoes as sidewalk conditions can quickly become icy in Spring;
- Parents/Guardians, teach your children how to cross the road safely:
 - Always use a sidewalk and if one is not available, teach them to walk as close to the edge of the road as possible;
 - Never run out into the street for ANY reason!

Motorists:

- DO NOT drive while impaired by alcohol or drug;
- DO NOT drive distracted, keep your cell phone out of reach and stay alert;
- Always look for pedestrians and remember, if someone is waiting at the crosswalk you must stop to let them cross!
- Be aware of potential jaywalkers as well as kids running out into the street;
- Be patient, especially with seniors, children and pedestrians with disabilities;
- Be aware of road conditions as Spring thaws can lead to icy roads.
- Take caution and reduce your speed when travelling through residential areas, school zones and playgrounds.

We encourage anyone who witnesses/suspects illegal or dangerous behaviour to contact the detachment by calling 310-RCMP or, if it's an emergency, call 911.

Thank you from the RCMP and always remember: Spring Safety, be aware and take care!!

Mike Shortland, S/Sgt.

Carlyle RCMP Detachment Commander

1. Why did the tree go to the dentist? To get a root canal!
2. What do you get when you cross a bunny and a leaf blower? A hare dryer!
3. What does one raindrop say to the other raindrop? Two's company, three's a cloud!
4. Why did the duck cross the road? To prove he wasn't a chicken!
5. Why did the tomato turn red? Because it saw the salad dressing!
6. What is a bird's favorite sport?
Answer: "Nest-surfing"

HAVEN HAPPENINGS APRIL 2023

Submitted by Barbara Dennis

Easter greetings to all readers! Residents and staff alike wish all a very blessed Easter weekend – may you enjoy it with family and friends. We had some fun putting our two greeting boards together.

Sinclair Singers, an acapella young people's group are scheduled for an Easter presentation on Monday April 3 at 6p.m. Keith Olsen and Gary Dickson will also be entertaining on the 3rd. Mr. Ed James' Easter Show will be April 13. Phil Wilk will be present April 19. Musical entertainers Phil Reddekop and Marie Vail from Wawota are also becoming regulars – they are scheduled April 26.

Unfortunately, our March plans were interrupted by a precautionary lock down for a night as well as an illness that kept the quartet away. Please know we are actively seeking an April date with 4 Given.

Thanks to his driver, Lillian Jackson, Ed James was able to come March 17 and presented his St. Patrick's Day Show.

Just for fun we had an inopportune St. Patrick's Day 'Pot of Gold' draw. Staff and residents and quests were invited to add a loonie to the pot. Cook for the day, Sandra Stewart was the lucky winner of the pot.

Anne-Marie Kenler made and donated a large multi-colored afghan, which she donated to the recreation department. Raffle tickets were sold and the draw made March 31. Dirk Lamotte upon hearing he had won said, "That is great!" and gave credit to his wife, Sylvianne for buying the ticket. Thank you to all who supported this fundraiser for the Recreation Department and to Anne-Marie Kendler for being so generous with her time, materials and talent!

April's Haven activities will include decorating Easter eggs, as well as an Easter craft. Father Ron Andrees will also bless us with his attendance during Holy Week coming at his usual time on Thursday.

April 8th a young woman from Estevan will be bringing her rabbits to the Health Centre for the residents to hold, cuddle and enjoy.

Haven residents are increasingly enjoying the milder days brought by the warm rays of the March and April sun. Some are bundling up to exit the building to be out so they can feel the fresh air and the sun on their faces. Wonderful!!

Dog treats are always made ready for purchase by the public. Call 452-4003 and leave a message should you wish to purchase some, please state what size treat you need, small, medium, or large. $5.00 a bag – you can pick them up most days 8:30 to 5p.m. We thank all who have supported this fundraiser and those of you who yet may. Your dog will thank you too!

Until next time – hopefully we can all enjoy the emergence of spring.

REDVERS U15 ROCKETS WIN LEAGUE TITLE

REPRINTED WITH PERMISSION BY
GORD PAULLY OF THE CARLYLE OBSERVER

Redvers was the top team in the regular season and dominated the playoffs.

REDVERS - The U15 Redvers Rockets capped off a great season by winning the Moose Mountain Minor Hockey League championship.

They compiled a 20-2-2 record in regular season play and finished in first place out of 13 teams. They led the league both in goals scored (159) and goals allowed (69).

In their best-of-three playoff series, they swept both the Estevan Bears and Weyburn. In the final, they defeated the Milestone Flyers in two straight games, winning their last game on the road.

In their six playoff games, they outscored their opposition 35-18.

Jody Jorgensen was the coach of the U15 Rockets. The team assistant coaches were Syd Chicoine and Chad Lawless.

"We had a great group of kids that were eager to learn and easy to teach. To them, team wins were much more important than individual accomplishments. Thank-you to all the players, our coaches and executive of the team and Redvers Minor Hockey. And a big thank-you to all the parents and our fans," said Jorgensen.

"The parents, grandparents and community members have all really enjoyed watching these kids come together as a team and dig deep for so many Ws," said manager Courtney Gavelin. "All 21 kids wanted to feel this win and they worked really hard all year to get it. It's been a fun and exciting year and we are very proud of them."

REDVERS ROCKETS WIN BIG SIX CHAMPIONSHIP

REPRINTED WITH PERMISSION BY
DAVID WILLBERG OF THE CARLYLE OBSERVER

Redvers scored early and often in Game 3.

REDVERS - For the second time in their franchise history, the Redvers Rockets are the Big Six Hockey League champions.

The Rockets routed the Moosomin Rangers 10-2 Friday night in Redvers to sweep the best-of-five league final in three games.

Redvers' last championship came in 2018.

The Rockets eliminated any suspense early in Game 3 by scoring four times in the first period and adding another in the second for a 5-0 lead. They led 7-1 after two.

Presten Kopeck had three of Redvers' first five goals and finished with four goals and two assists on the night. Kenton Miller had two goals and three helpers. Todd Gervais, Daylin Smallchild, Bradey Fidierchuk and Brady Gaudet also scored.

Cody Matthewson was in goal for Redvers in the clinching game.

Dawson Springer had both Moosomin goals.

Levi Horn and Kyler Beckett split the goaltending duties for Moosomin.

The Rockets were the class of the Big Six almost from the start of the season. After a season-opening loss to the Oxbow Huskies, Redvers rattled off 19 straight wins in the regular season to finish first overall.

Then they went 8-0 in the playoffs.

Moosomin finished third in the regular season with a 16-4 mark.
