WINTERFEST

ALIDA DECEMBER HAPPENINGS

Submitted by Edel Cowan

Sincere sympathy is extended to Dot Zelionka on the passing of her husband Lawrence on December 2/2023 at the age of 97 years, at Moosomin. Condolences are also extended to all family members.

Kathy Anthony, daughter Willa, son Riley and Deniese attended the funeral service in Regina on November 27 of her grandson Elijah Dustyhorn late of Moose Jaw, who had passed away November 19/2023 at the age of 23. Sincere sympathy is extended to Bill and Kathy, as well as to his mother Willa, and his uncle Riley Anthony. Condolences are extended to all other family members.

On December 5 Act One Productions held another meeting and had a good turn out with some new faces in attendance and everyone seemed to be very enthused and became all fired up for another year. They will present "A Fine Monster You Are" – March 7, 8, 9, 10/2024. Ticket sales went on sale December 16 (just in time for Christmas gift ideas).

Home visiting with their mother Dorothy Zelionka for a few days was Randy/Glenda Zelionka (Loon Lake, AB) and Holy/Jason Adamache (Weyburn). While here they attended the celebration of their dad's Lawrence Zelionka life on December 8. Holly remained with her mom for a few extra days before returning to her home.

Not much news around right now, everyone was probably busy getting ready for the Christmas weekend which is coming up very quickly. Hope your home is full of the wonderful aroma of Christmas baking, that all your shopping is done, wrapping soon complete, and of course the decorations and tree up and in their place. If not – don't worry or fret – one can always imagine that it's all done and just sit back, feet up and wait for the days to go by.

Do hope your holidays will be filled with your favorite traditions – with love of family and friends and happy memories. Light a candle in remembrance of our lost loved ones who can't be with us this Christmas.

Wishing everyone all the best during this Christmas season – Merry Christmas from our house to yours.

Special Anniversary greeting go out to Hal and Glenda Nielsen on December 15 as they celebrate their 50th Anniversary – Happy Anniversary folks from us all here at Alida and surrounding area (a little birdie sent us a message) – hope you have an excellent day and many more to come.

Hal and Glenda Nielsen spent some time in Alberta where they visited with daughter Jenny, Monty and family to help their youngest grandson celebrate his 13th birthday – Happy Birthday Eric. They also spent a few days at Banff – have a great time and enjoy your holiday folks.

Wishing everyone had a safe and happy Christmas holiday. With the early deadlines, I don't have any up-to-date news – so hoping you'll let me know what and how you spent your Christmas – even a little late it's still interesting news for those of us who stayed close to home.

2023 is almost over – so just wishing you all a very Happy New Year – see you around in 2024. Take care and stay safe.

The Alida community extends sincere condolences to the following families on the passing of a family member. (1) Trisha (Kelly) Schulhauser and family on the death of her grandfather Frank Hansen (late of Oxbow) on December 11/2023 at the age of 94 years. A Graveside service will be held at a later date. (2) Sherry (Ross) Shier and family on the death of her father Allan Spearing (late of Oxbow, formally of Auburnton) on December 13/2023 at the age of 93 years. A private service will be held at a later date.

We received word that Wayne Kyle of Armstrong, BC (formally of Nottingham/Alida, Redvers) had passed away December 20/2023 at the age of 89 years. He leaves to mourn is wife Helen (Sandgaard), sons Doug (Jeanna), Rob (Andrea), daughter Marnie, three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; brother-in-law Paul (Marilyn) Sandgaard as well as many nieces, nephews and cousins. Sincere sympathy is extended to all relatives.

Holly Anthony left on Thursday, December 21 for Regina where she and her sister flew out early on the 22nd for Sacramento, California to visit her niece. They arrived back late on the 28th.

Faye Walker spent Christmas week visiting in Saskatoon with her family, daughter Deidra, Jeff Nickel and granddaughters Olivia, Abigail, Claire and Piper. On her travels to Saskatoon and back home she stopped over in Regina for a quick visit with her cousin Donovan, who is in a long-term home.

ALIDA DECEMBER HAPPENINGS

Joleen, Paul Hofmann and boys (Viking, AB) came to visit with her parents Brian and Margaret Peet on December 20-24. On Friday, December 22 they all went to Estevan where they celebrated an early Christmas with Patti and Monty Mowchenko and girls. Parry, Wendal, Thomas Peet and Tenley Dyck, Chad, Sam Peet boys spent Christmas at Preeceville with the Hull family.

Home during the Christmas week with Leonard and Lil Patton was their daughter Wendy and Rob Lutzer and daughters Kayley and Reece (Calgary). While here they also visited with brother, Trevor and Sheri Patton, Cordelia and Keagan and they all celebrated Christmas together.

Sarah McClung was home for Christmas with her parents Peter and Rozanne McClung before returning to her home in Regina where she is a pharmacist at Safeway.

Kara Junk and daughter Morgan (Sylvan Lake) spent Christmas week (December 22-27) visiting with her parents Gary and Brenda Junk. On Christmas Day other guests joining them were Jason, April Junk and family, Dina and Hayden Junk (Regina), Carla Junk (Kenossee), Adam Swanson (Regina), Rob Applegate (Sylvan Lake) and Lorne Junk (Alida).

Gray and Edel Cowan celebrated Christmas Day in Redvers with his sister Joyce and niece Jackie George as well as with Beth George who joined them for dinner. Then on Boxing Day the Cowans held their Christmas with their family and friends, Jeff Cowan and Ray Markoski (Regina), Diane Markoski (Alameda), Joyce George (Redvers), Tim, Shelly and Ainsley. Later in the day granddaughter Kelsey Rydberg and Steven Wilson (Estevan) joined the family in celebrating Christmas.

On December 27 Tim, Shelly and Ainsley Cowan travelled to Brandon to spend the day and take in a movie before returning home.

It's Time ---- Breakfast at the Rink begins January 7 from 8-10:30 am. with Kitchen Group #3 in charge. The Breakfast Challenge Begins. See you at the rink Sunday morning.

HAPPY NEW YEAR EVERYONE - all the Best in 2024 to you and yours.

REDVERS SCHOOL ROCKS!

By Layla Blerot

Redvers school is amazing! There are tons of fun things that Redvers school does to let our students have a great time. The staff are amazing in Redvers school, and they make it a great place for students to learn. In the month of December, it has been very busy, so this is what we've done.

On Friday December 1st there was no school due to a PD Day. On Monday December 4th we had our band concert at 7:00 p.m. in the Redvers gymnasium. The theme was Battling Cries. We also had Moosomin Community Band come play some songs for us. Thank you to everybody who came.

This school year our school did 12 days of Christmas spirit days. On Thursday, December 7th it was Christmas hat day. On Friday, December 8th there was a movie at lunch in the grade 6 classroom. On Monday, December 11th it was red and green day. On Tuesday, December 12th it was Twinkle Tuesday. On Wednesday, December 13th it was PJ/ flannel day. On Thursday, December 14th it was grinch day. On Friday, December 15th there was Just Dance in the gym at lunch. Monday, December 18th was red and white day. On Tuesday, December 19th was ugly Christmas sweater day. Wednesday, December 20th was White Christmas day. The school also had their Christmas concert at 7:00 p.m. in the Redvers gym. Again, thanks to everyone who came. On Thursday December 21st there was again a movie at lunch in the gym. Friday December 22nd it was the last day of school before Christmas holidays. For the elementary, it was PJ Day. For the high school, it was formal day. The high school also had a banquet in the gym.

That was Redvers School's December. School starts back up on Monday January 8th. Merry Christmas and a happy new year everybody.

GROWTH AND RENEWAL

Submitted by Jocelyn Hainsworth

Here we are at the very end of another year. Time is a confusing thing – how can it be that some days take forever but when you put them all together into larger units like a year time seems to disappear in the blink of an eye? The advice of “don’t blink” comes to mind.

It has been a different Christmas season for us with all of the festivities taking place in someone else’s house. I have not cooked a single turkey or batch of buns, or made up a single extra bed for overnight guests. The days have been routine and quiet. The weather has been mild. The days are already getting longer, something we observe with joy and relief in this household.

I am in no rush to take down the Christmas tree. Last year we finally bought an artificial one so there are no needles falling off to make a mess or spear bare feet. I especially like how not remembering to water it has no consequences at all, and the damage to the floor by my overwatering in the past has not gotten any worse either. I should have gone ‘fake tree’ years ago.

The only push to get the fake tree put away is that my real house plants don’t like where they have to spend the holidays and are showing their displeasure by stopping flowering and dropping leaves. They need their southern exposure back before they are nothing but sticks. It won’t happen today, but soon.

It’s funny, decorating the tree is a time to look back – to open windows to past Christmases with each ornament I hang on the tree or garland I string across the deck – but putting these very same things away is a different story. This job causes me to look forward to the coming year.

It is unusual for us to have actual plans this early on but this year we have a family wedding in Mexico right off the hop. It’s fun to anticipate the beaches, the many family members also attending, and especially the fact that we get to share this adventure with our grandchildren. The happy anticipation is building for us all.

Also on our 2024 agenda is a camping/music festival later on in the summer. This is something that I’ve always wanted to check out but my significant other feels very differently. How his daughter talked him into this for my Christmas gift boggles my mind. She definitely has more pull than I do.

But that is only what we are doing, and it seems pretty tame compared to what is on the horizon for some of our kids and grand-kids. There is going to be significant continent hopping going on for them.

Due to work opportunities one of our families is off to South Africa for a couple years. The grandsons are already super excited about going on safari and seeing lions and tigers and elephants. I can’t say that I have ever dreamed of this kind of adventure but I am almost certain we will visit them there. Thanks to our wandering kids I will only have one continent left to see. I cannot imagine ever setting foot on Antarctica though, not even for the “we did them all!” claim to fame.

They will no sooner be gone than a grandson who left for Australia at two years old plans to return to Canada for University and we will be off to Edmonton to spend time with him and his dad as they get him settled in. It would have been even better if his volleyball scholarship could have been offered by a closer school but Alberta is better than Sydney; we will make it work.

I also have another plant that needs attention. Unlike the sulking, struggling Mandevilla, my umbrella tree has only thrived in the west bedroom, taking over the space. It started out as a tiny sprout purchased at Liboiron’s store 45 years ago and due to numerous miracles and its obvious will to live it is still with us. It has done so well that it can no longer be squeezed through a door and the last few fronds it has put out are up against the ceiling. The situation calls for drastic surgery. Ironically, to save it I have to chop off and re-root the top so that it can continue to grow.

In a way this perfectly symbolizes the faith I will put in the coming year. I’m not sure if it’s my personality or an age factor, but I can’t imagine ‘re-rooting’ myself for life on another continent, but I recognize that these new environments encourage growth that won’t happen if the moves aren’t made. It’s scary to cut up a thriving plant and put it in a new pot to begin again, but I’ve done it before. Actually, this is the only reason the umbrella plant still going strong. My hope is that my metaphor fits the humans in my life.

So, here’s to 2024! Here’s to growth, and renewal, and since it’s a Leap year, a full 366 days of good things!
