Omer Carriere wins Gold at SSFA Provincials

91-YEAR-OLD GOLFER CROWNED PROVINCIAL CHAMP

By Kaitlynn Nordal, The Observer

What started off as a way to bond with his colleagues has turned into a lifelong passion for 91-year-old Omer Carriere.

It started in 1957 when co-workers asked if he wanted to go golfing with them.

"We had just moved," said Carriere. "At this time, some of the guys I worked with were golfing, so I decided to go out with them." Carriere was hooked and has been golfing ever since.

"It's a good pastime. It's a self-challenge. You always want to improve and do the round in less strokes," said Carriere.

Carriere recently participated in a qualifying tournament in Cardnuff. Carriere then got to move on to participate in the 2025 SSFA 55+ provincial games held in Swift Current, where he golfed on August 26 and 27. Carriere received gold in the 85+ category, shooting 97 in the first round and 93 in the second round.

"The tournament is good. You are golfing with people your age, and golf courses are quite challenging. It's different from the course you are golfing every day," said Carriere.

"The tournament was well organized," continued Carriere. "We started one after another instead of shotgun this year. It was really good."

Carriere felt this was a better way to organize the tournament.

"You are following one another rather than starting in one big group. It's more organized," said Carriere.

Although there were only two other people golfing in his age group, Carriere is happy with how well he did in the tournament.

"The competition wasn't as strong as if there was 10 or 20, but I was thrilled to get the golf," said Carriere.

Carriere now moves on to nationals.

The 2026 Nationals location and more information are to be released at a later date.

"If it's not too far away, I will probably go, but if it's too far away, I may not," said Carriere. "If it's on the coast, that is a little far," said Carriere.

A Peek into the 25th Alida

ALIDA OCTOBER 2025 HAPPENINGS

Submitted by Edel Cowan

*Harvest has been moving right along now, once the rain stopped and things dried up. There are some that are finished or probably will be sometime this week. Let's just hope all stays as is until everyone can say that this year's harvest is in the bins. The gardens have done their work for the year and most of the produce has been brought in doors. It wasn't as good a years as others, but it will still help throughout the winter months. I've brought in most of the yard and garden decorations as well and of course the fall decorations for Halloween are up and keeping guard of the yard. School has been in session for a month now so everyone there must be in the swing of things for this time around - continued good luck as the year progresses.

*On September 10 the Prairie Pride Credit Union hosted a "Share the Harvest BBQ" lunch at Alida at the Golden Gate Centre with a good crowd attending. The proceeds raised were donated to the Alida Fire Department. Your support is much appreciated.

*(The Alida Rec. Board report by Shanna

Carriere). September is a relatively quiet month for everyone on the Rec board except for Shelly who designs, builds and creates her crazy Alida Haunted House every year!!!! This project starts early September and monopolizes her days until the doors open. She has had many helpers over the years which she appreciates greatly, too many to mention. However if you want to help in any way, please call Shelly at 485-7023 - extra hands are always needed. This year the Alida Haunted House 2025 will be our 25th year of operation - it will be bigger and better - I'm sure!!! Doors will be open October 17 and 18; October 24 and 25 and on the 31 from 7:00-10:00 pm. Bar will also be open. The annual Halloween Fun Fair for all of the young and young at heart will run October 26 from 1:00-3:00 pm. There will also be an escape room available for those who are up to a challenge this Halloween. Open the same hours as the a haunted house. Call 306-485-7023 to pre-book your time. On Friday, October 31 as well as the haunted house we will be having a Monster Mash - open to all ages 7-10 pm. Come and enjoy the Music and Halloween fun. Just a reminder we are always looking for donations for our fun fair and they can be dropped off in Alida at the Post Office, the Prairie Pride Credit Union or with April Junk. Come visit us at our 25th Haunted House!!!!

*(The Golden Gate Centre report by Rozanne McClung). The Alida Golden Gate will be having a pie and coffee day on November 12, from 2-4 at the Alida Golden Gate Centre. In conjunction a pie sale is also taking place. All pies are homemade. Pies $15 each and must be preordered by October 27. Varieties are apple, pumpkin, cherry, banana cream, flapper, lemon, raisin and limited amounts of Saskatoon, Rhubarb and green tomato mincemeat. If you would like to order pies, forms are available at the post office, credit union and grocery store in Alida. You can also order by calling Brenda Junk (485-7302) or Margaret Peet (485-7245). The Golden Gate is now open Wednesday mornings for cards, puzzles and visiting. It is also open every weekday morning at 6:30 for coffee and toast.

* Happy Thanksgiving Everyone on October 13 - enjoy your holiday and turkey with family and friends.

* Happy Halloween Everyone on October 31 - Beware of all the ghosts, witches, goblins and ghouls that may be popping up around and about. Also keep an eye open for the little ones that may be out Trick or Treating - take care and have fun!

Haunted House

There was good attendance at the Prairie Pride CU "Share the Harvest BBQ" luncheon at Alida September 10. Proceeds donated to Alida Fire Department.

LOWER SOURIS WATERSHED COMMITTEE VISITS REDVERS SCHOOL GRADE 6 CLASS

On Friday, September 12th, Danyelle Thompson along with Jenna Thompson representing the Lower Souris Watershed Committee spent the afternoon with the grade 6 class of Redvers School. Danyelle gave an overview of what a watershed is, as well as a guess the plant and animal from written clues on a powerpoint. Jenna had various displays set up that consisted of how water filters through different soils, examples of various soils, dried plants, water samples with living organisms, as well as an interactive watershed model. We also went outside, where 2 separate ropes were set up. One was straight and the other curvy to show how water moves. The kids straddled the ropes and ran down them to see where water flows faster. "Plants", students standing on the side of a rope illustrated how plants slow down erosion. To end the day, an activity sheet was given to each student.

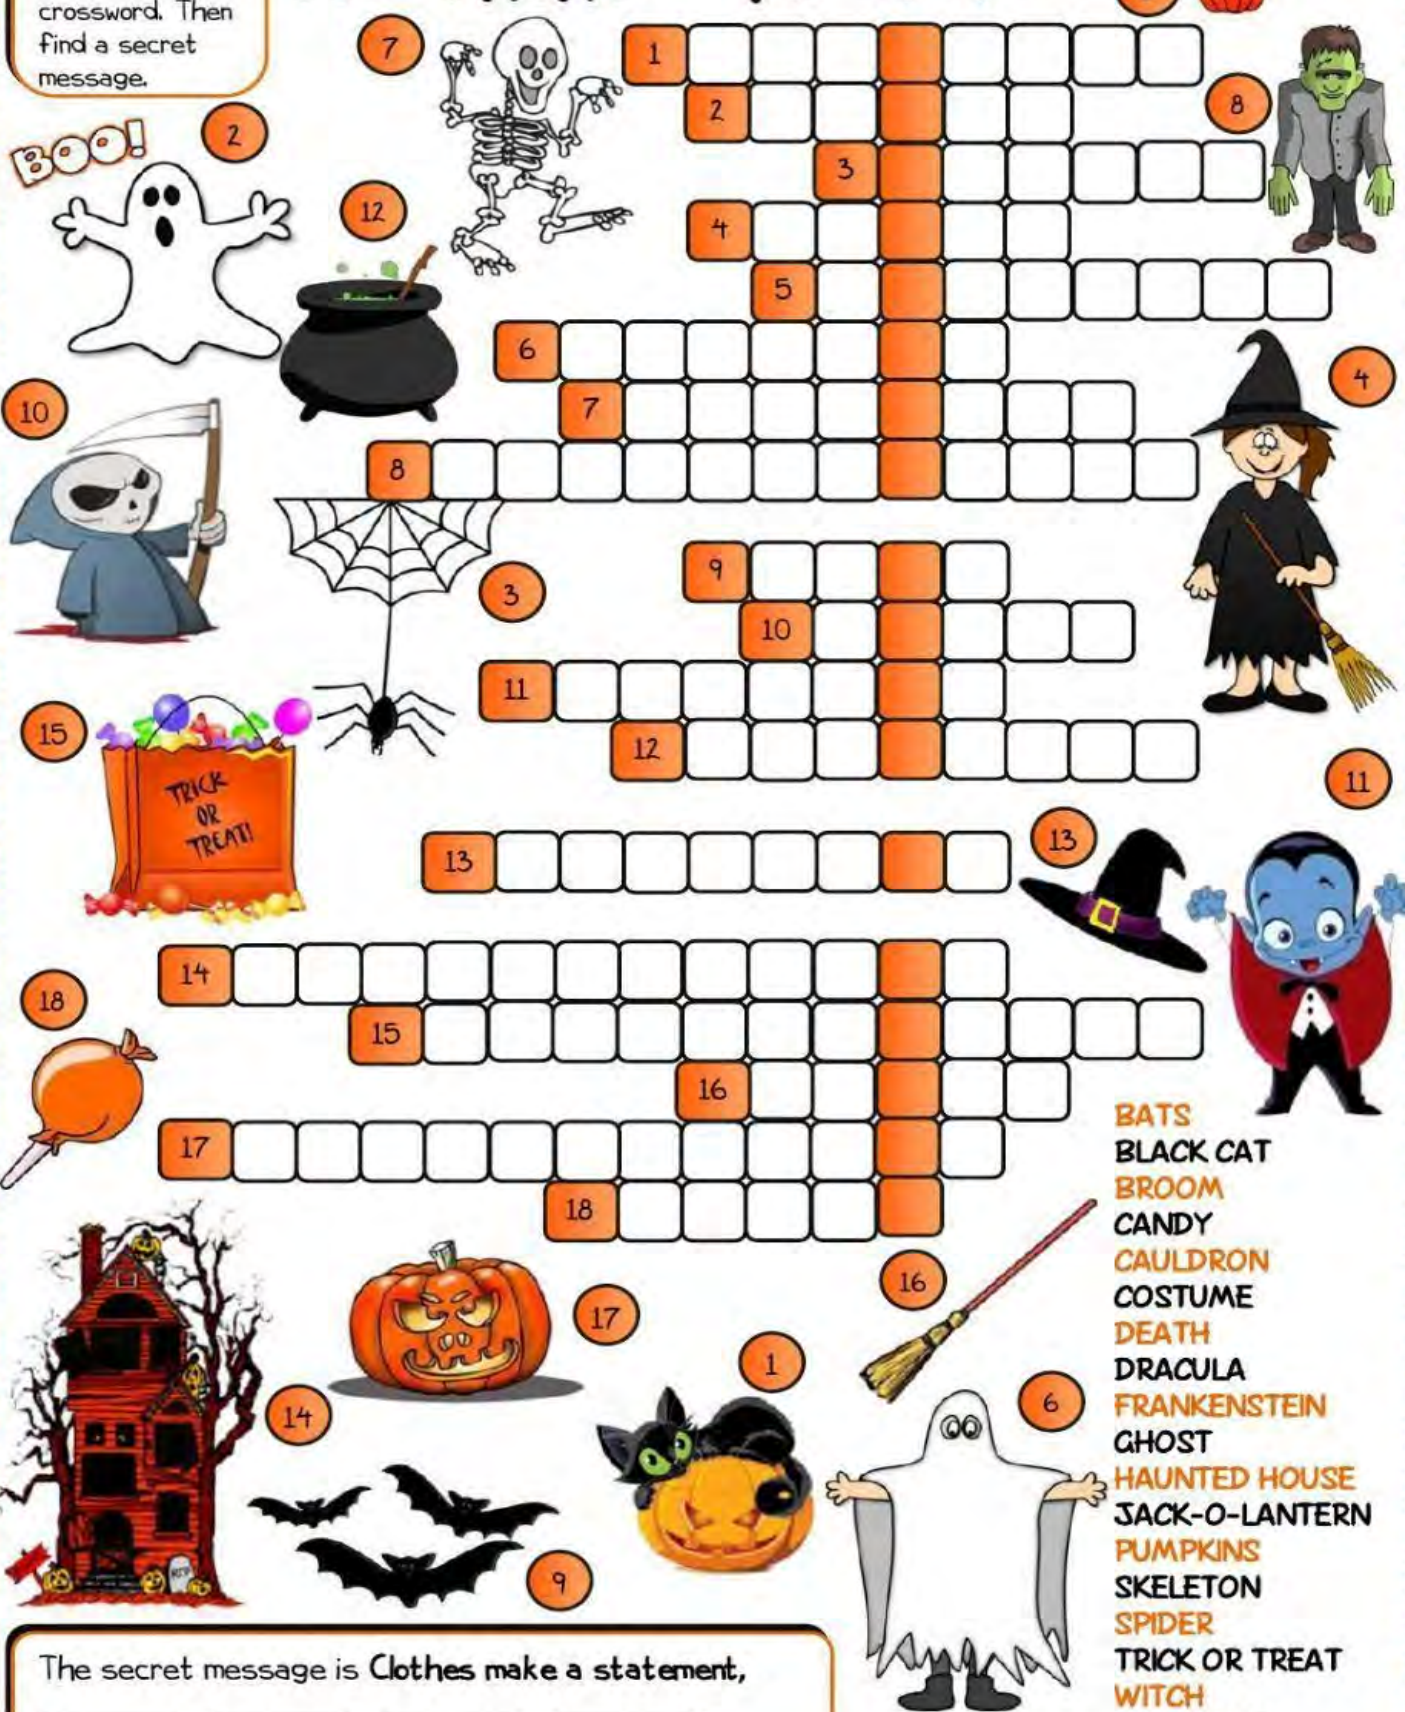

Match the words to the correct pictures and complete the crossword. Then find a secret message.

BELLEGARDE RURAL DEVELOPMENT – OCTOBER UPDATE

Submitted by Aly Poirier

Harvest season is in full swing, and we recognize how important this time of year is for our community. Every member of the BRD board is directly involved in agriculture, so it's a busy season for us all. Even so, we are looking forward to bringing some excitement back to the hall and rink soon!

First, we'd like to know if there is any interest in hosting a Halloween Carnival at the hall. The event would feature games, prizes, food, music, and more. If you'd like to see this event return, please reach out to a board member to share your interest.

Renovations at the rink are also moving forward. The Zamboni Room project continues to progress, with plans in place to update the space so that the new machine can be stored indoors in a warm area. The old Zamboni room will be converted into a second change room, and the kitchen will be receiving a refresh as well.

We're also looking for feedback on upcoming programs. Would there be interest in kids' skate lessons this year? If so, they would begin the first week of January and run for six weeks. Please reach out by November 15 if you'd like to register your child.

In addition, we'd like to gauge interest in bringing back Rec Hockey this season. The program would include drills, skill development, scrimmages, and—if we have strong participation—games against other towns.

Looking ahead, we'll be holding a fall BRD meeting and are seeking additional members to join the board. This is a great opportunity to help support community initiatives and guide the direction of the Bellegarde Rural Development.

With the holiday season fast approaching, we want to remind everyone that both the hall and rink are open for bookings for your holiday events. The hall is a wonderful space to host family gatherings, with plenty of room for everyone to come together and celebrate. It also features a large kitchen with multiple ovens to make meal prep easier—and best of all, your own house stays clean while the fun happens at the hall! The rink will tentatively have ice in by Christmas, weather permitting, and is a cozy space to enjoy a day of exercise and activity with the family after all those holiday meals!

If you have any feedback you would like to share, please reach out to our Board Members, email us at bellegarde.ruraldev@gmail.com or call/text the board at (306)840-7010. On behalf of the BRD, we wish everyone a safe and joyful Thanksgiving.

DOING BIRTHDAYS IN STYLE

Submitted by Jocelyn Hainsworth

Many years ago, my farmer husband explained to me in his typical stressed-out-about-harvest voice that if I had wanted parties to celebrate my birthday I should have known better than to be born in September. I mean, this was a life-long handicap what with being both a farmer's daughter and then choosing to be a farmer's wife. I really shouldn't be surprised to have my birthday barely acknowledged between filling bins and fixing combines.

I'm not, really. This girl isn't one of the high maintenance variety. Besides, I have scored a few significant birthday memories over the years. In 1982 he actually took a whole day off and we went to Brandon to pick out an engagement ring. Looking back, having only known the man less than a year I can only say that this astonishingly atypical behavior was lost on me at the time. The term 'false advertising' certainly applies.

It's too late to do anything about it now, though, I think the statute of limitations on that crime has run out.

I think it was the very next year, as a newly wed, that he gave me a blank I.O.U. to be redeemed after harvest. He was probably thinking that meant taking me out for supper or some such easy thing. Imagine his surprise when I called that debt in and insisted on a clothesline. It was a whole day's work and I never got another I.O.U. but it was so worth it. I love my clothesline.

The years have rolled on by and luckily I have continued to have birthdays. The kids got old enough to bake the cakes and make or buy the presents. Like I said, I'm not high maintenance so it's worked out okay. He remembered to wish me a happy birthday without being prompted this year, so that's something. It's a low bar but he aced it. By that time he was on his 5th or 6th swather knife repair and more than a little on edge. It's all good.

This year other plans had been made. 2025 brings me to one of those significant ending-in-zero birthdays and the womenfolk of the family decided that this called for a spa weekend in Moose Jaw. Who needs husband input when you can gather all the sisters and an assortment of nieces/daughters together for a two day spa visit? As a bonus there was also one tiny grand daughter for us to all fuss over; she and her mom are kind of a package deal at the moment. When the family is spread out from Calgary to Redvers there aren't all that many opportunities to get together. It was a great time.

We didn't do anything fancy. We talked about doing one of the Tunnels of Moose Jaw tours but never got around to it. A few of us bought souvenirs as we wandered through the downtown shops, but nothing too much. We treated ourselves to two lovely evening meals, enjoying the food and the atmosphere ... and teased the sister who had "forgotten" her wallet mercilessly. We spent time in the mineral waters pool – especially in the outdoor pool under the stars on a very warm prairie night, but no one took time for an actual spa treatment, we had too much visiting to do.

The best times by far, though, were sitting around our suite sharing a carafe of Tim Horton's coffee with muffins and fruit and cheese, telling stories of our kids and grandkids, our gardens and animals, the holidays we had taken and the places we still dream of going.

You know, the kind of things that womenfolk talk about.

We gifted stories from one generation to the next, honoring the mothers and sisters who are no longer with us. Hopefully the two month old baby was soaking it all in as she slept; there was a lot of familial ambience in that room. She and her generation will be the ones who carry this magic forward.

We told stories from long ago while making fresh memories for the next time we meet – which we should probably do sooner rather than later. Those ending-in-zero birthdays get a little more serious as time goes by. It's not the zero that scares me anymore, it's the number in front of the zero that is concerning.
