ALIDA HAUNTED HOUSE

CONDO CHATTER

Submitted by Doreen Holden

It's been a long time since I wrote anything so I'd best do a little update.

We are so pleased to say that all our suites are filled which is amazing. Some of the new tenants who have moved in this fall include Allan & Brenda Hutton, John & Helina Aalbers, Arthur & Jeannette Henrion, Jeannette Poirier, Allan Yates, Marcel Naviaux & Lucille Couture, and Blaine & Naomi Hjertaas. Besides this we have several suites that are for the medical personnel at the hospital.

Our garden out back has come to an end, although there was a lot of produce harvested in spite of our very different weather this summer and fall.

We have a meal every month which could vary amongst a pot luck, pizza, soup & salad, or chicken plus we have a catered meal at Christmas time.

Thursday night is always Spades with two or three tables in progress, while most other evenings there will be 5-6 people playing 2000 to pass the time. There is always a puzzle in progress in the little room.

With all the rains we've had, the flowers are amazing, thanks to Herb and Marina Dell, while the grass is so lush and green for this time of the year.

In September, it was the 15th anniversary of the First Phase of Redvers Union Estates, so Doreen put on coffee and cake to celebrate. The only original tenants from September, 2011 are Barbara Naviaux and Doreen Holden, with Aime Dellaleau moving in later that fall. With the first building being filled by year end, the push was on to build Phase Two. At present, all 35 suites in our building are full, the apartments to the north of us are filled and all the Lodge is occupied. We are very lucky to have these facilities in our small town but are badly in need of more short term housing in Redvers.

SEASONS OF CHOCOLATE

Submitted by Jocelyn Hainsworth

It's that time of year again. Autumnal chocolate (is that a word? It must be, spell check let me use it.)

This is a time of boxes of tiny (and I do mean tiny!) chocolate bars bought and brought home with the best of intentions. They are for little ghosts and goblins on Halloween night. Only after that spooky night has passed is it allowed that the people living in this house can have any 'leftovers'. I mean, otherwise it would be equivalent to 'taking candy from a baby' right'? And we would never plan to do such a thing.

So, we don't actually plan it. It just happens. It's an evolution of poor choices. That I make every year.

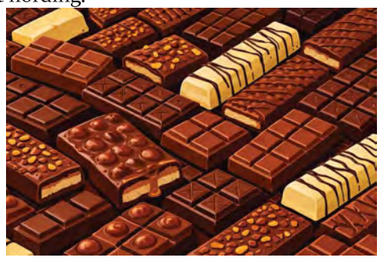

First, I buy the first boxes of treats that appear in the store. In September. From the display right at the entrance door of the store, and I think to myself "Ah, I will pick up a couple boxes and use some of them in lunch boxes." (See? Best of intentions. Goodies destined for dual purposes. Smart shopper. I even choose boxes that I personally only like one type of bar just to keep me from snitching.)

Then, when I get home, I take them downstairs and store them behind coffee canisters or cereal boxes in the pantry knowing full well that, once discovered, the boxes will mysteriously empty themselves. This at least, slows down the problem of disappearing chocolate. It works for a while but eventually someone looking for a jar of pickles or a new bottle of ketchup discovers the hidden treasure. As soon as the box is open candy evaporation begins.

I notice a pattern of more trips of short duration to the basement and candy wrappers turning up in unusual places. By my birthday (three weeks into September) the stash has been depleted and I make purchase # two. I offer no excuses this time – after all it's my birthday and I only got one KitKat out of the first go round.

On this second purchase I buy an upstairs box and a downstairs box. One legal and one off limits. Plus, don't tell anyone, but I also buy a small bag of Oh Henrys and squirrel it away in my secret hiding place – it is my birthday, after all!

The house boxes are long gone but I still have a half dozen secret treats. I'm pretty good at hording.

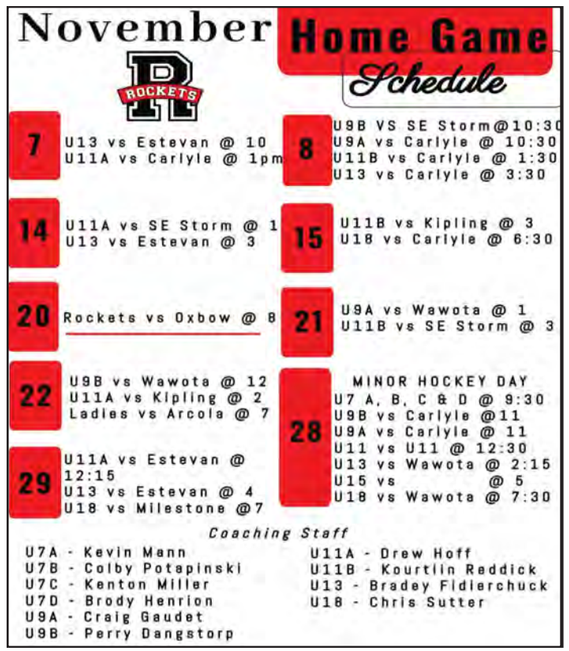

Boxes 5 and 6 – or is it 7 and 8? – disappeared long before their 'best before' date as well.

And now, here we are, the day before the trick or treaters are going to show up and I need to replenish our supply of goodies one more time. It will be good to give all that yummy goodness away so that we can start this charade all over again with Christmas Turtles and Lindor balls.

And then heart-shaped boxes of Valentine Chocolates.

Followed closely by what the Easter Bunny brings ...

ALIDA 2026 NOVEMBER HAPPENINGS

Submitted by Edel Cowan

* Where or where does the time go – another new month and there is still some harvesting to be completed. This has been the wettest year during the harvest season, dragging it on and on – a very discoursing year for the farmers. One that they hope they'll never see again. Will keep our fingers crossed that some fair weather is still in the making and maybe just maybe one will be able to actually get back into the field and finish everything up. All thoughts are still with the farmers – wishing them success in finishing up their harvest. Good Luck fellas and stay safe!

* Looking into November – it should be another busy month with lots of activity going on in and around Alida. Let's hope for continued nice weather so one can enjoy whatever one is hoping to do. The next event coming soon in Alida is the benefit supper for Aaron Lemieux – hope you have your supper ticket and are able to attend this event. There may still be time to get your tickets, but it is filling up fast and the supper numbers have to be in to the caterers. Hopefully we'll see you there.

* (Alida Golden Gate report by Rozanne McClung): The Golden Gate has gotten a lot of interest in our outdoor arrangement evenings coming up. The dates are Tuesday, November 24 and Tuesday, December 1st. No cost for Alida Golden Gate members and just a $10.00 charge for non-members. Everyone is welcome. There will be greenery available as well as other décor for the arrangements for a nominal fee. Let Rozanne know at 306-485-7113 if you have questions or would like to participate. You will have to bring your own pot or container for your arrangement. We will also be holding a "potluck" on Wednesday, December 9 for members and spouses. If your spouse is not a member then there is a $10.00 charge for supper.

* (Alida Rec. Board report by Shanna Carriere): Well, we've had a very busy October because of our very famous Haunted House that Shelly Cowan and all her helpers put together each year. As usual we had a very successful year putting a total of 524 excited people through the haunted house over the course of six evenings and one afternoon. Our busiest night came on Saturday, October 24 with 181 spooks going through the haunted house. We also ran an Escape Room again this year, which was also very busy. It was booked up every evening except for the 31st, but many people enjoyed it and some were very successful.
A BIG thank you to Shelly who makes this successful every year but an equally big thank you to all her helpers who come out every year and help. Also a great big shout out to all our little spooks who truly make this a creepy experience. Thanks for your time. They're only paid in hotdogs and candy so we really appreciate their help.
On Sunday, October 25 along with the haunted house, we hosted our Fun Fair at the rink. This saw many, many little adorable spooks come through and have fun. Some went through the haunted house and some did not. There were tons of games and things to play. Thanks so much April and Sam.
Going forward we are getting preparations in place for our annual Lisette Dubuc Christmas funraising Bingo. It just grows in success each year and it is so much fun so we hope to see you out. Bring the whole family. This event is planned for Friday, December 4, 2026 at the Alida Hall.

* (Alida Fall Supper report by Lesa Bendtsen): Sunday, November 1 was the date for our annual Fall Supper. The weather proved to be very challenging – so foggy – but it didn't seem to stop the people from coming, much to our surprise and gratitude. There were 250 people who came to enjoy the delicious food and an evening of visiting among family and friends. There were also 10 "To-go" boxes taken out. Making a total of 260 suppers sold – another success for the ladies. Thanks to everyone for their input towards the supper and a huge thank you to all those who braved the fog and came to attend our supper – it's all much appreciated!

*Don't forget on November 11 to Remember those who gave the utmost sacrifice and to all those who fought for our freedom. If possible try to attend a Remembrance Day service near you. We Shall Remember Them!!!

October has flown by, and slowly but surely, I am catching on with my new job at the Redvers Library. If you have any questions or concerns, please stop in or just say hello!

A few new books we have on the shelf include: All Adults Here – by Emma Straub; The Five – by Hallie Rubenhold; Never Alone – by Victoria West; The Ending Writes Itself – by Evelyn Clarke; Story Rug – by Sophie Blackall, pictures by Phoebe Wahl.

Halloween was on Saturday this year, so we were open from 3:00 to 7:30 PM welcoming ghosts and goblins. Thank you to everyone who made a donation and received a poster to hang on their door.

November's Book Club will discuss Anne Frank: The Story of a Young Girl on Wednesday, November 4 at 6:30 p.m. The Book Club is always looking for new members. We meet the first Wednesday of every month and next month we will be reading The Giver by Lois Lowry.

Starting November 13, we are happy to announce that Storytime for ages 4 and 5, will start again every Friday from 10 – 11 AM. Come and listen to a book, make a craft and enjoy a snack.

Jennifer Soder will be here on Tuesday, November 17 from 10 to 12 noon with a Fossil Hunt Expedition. Everyone is welcome to join in the fun.

The Redvers Library is pleased to have Patti Cakes of Reston joining us on Wednesday, November 18, for Ladies Nite. We will also have a game of Book Pictionary with a Free Draw to enter. Come visit us, our fundraising 2027 calendars should be available as well.

Your Big Mac Just Got Bigger...

So did the Lesson about Inflation.

When McDonald's introduced the Big Mac in April 1967, it quickly became one of the world's most recognizable hamburgers, and decades later, it has also become one of the world's most recognizable economic indicators.

1967	2.8%
Big Mac introduced	Canadian inflation (CPI) June 2026

Economists often use the Big Mac Index as a simple way to compare Purchasing Power Parity (PPP) between countries. Because a Big Mac contains a relatively standardized basket of ingredients; beef, bread, lettuce, cheese, onions, pickles, and labour, it provides an easy and surprisingly effective way to compare the purchasing power of different currencies around the world.

However, the Big Mac also teaches us another valuable lesson: how inflation is experienced in everyday life.

Over the past two decades, the price of a Big Mac in Canada has increased at a pace that many consumers perceive to be faster than general inflation. While the Consumer Price Index (CPI) measures the average change in prices across a broad basket of goods and services, individual products, particularly food items, can experience price increases that differ significantly from the overall inflation rate.

That difference is sometimes referred to as the inflation gap, the reality that many everyday purchases have increased far faster than the overall Consumer Price Index (CPI). While inflation statistics provide an important measure of the economy, they don't always reflect the prices consumers notice most often, such as food, housing, insurance, and other daily essentials.

This is why many Canadians feel that inflation is higher than the headline numbers suggest. Their personal experience at the grocery store, restaurant, or gas station may not align with the official inflation rate.

The lesson isn't really about hamburgers. It's about understanding how inflation affects your purchasing power over time.

Whether you're building savings, planning for retirement, or investing for the future, protecting your purchasing power is just as important as growing your wealth. After all, it's not simply about how many dollars you have tomorrow, it's about what those dollars will actually buy.

REDVERS SCHOOL, REDVERS ARTS COUNCIL & MISSOULA CHILDREN'S THEATRE PRESENTS "THE FROG PRINCE"

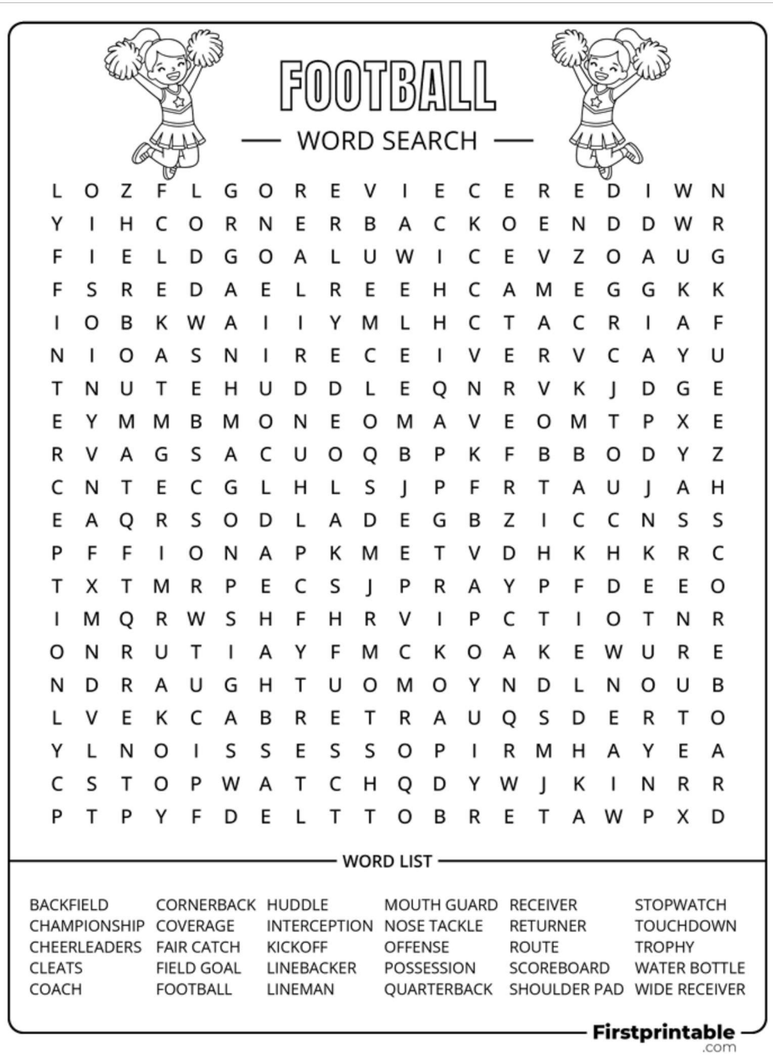

After very well-received Missoula Children's Theatre productions in 2023 and 2024, the Redvers Arts Council and Redvers School are proud to bring back Missoula Children's Theatre to our community this December. All involved are excited to give students the opportunity to display their talents and creativity on stage with acting, singing or working backstage. The Missoula Children's Theatre residency will be one busy week from November 30 to Dec 5 and include a group audition, intensive rehearsals, two public performances and three enrichment workshops. What an opportunity for our local young talent! Audition on Monday! Show on Saturday!

The production of the play The Frog Prince requires 50-60 local students, in kindergarten to grade 12, to audition for free and be cast in such various roles in the play. Among the roles to be cast are three sisters (who also happen to be Princesses), two students to play the lonely Frog, Ollie the Aspen Tree, bumbling Knights, kindly Swamp Things, the well-read Alligator, fancy Flamingos, helpful Ducks, a busy Fly, and the mischievous Venus Fly Traps. All students in kindergarten to grade 12 are encouraged to audition. No advance preparation is necessary. Assistant Directors will also be cast to aid in rehearsals throughout the week and to take on essential backstage responsibilities. The Missoula Children's Theatre touring productions are complete with costumes, scenery, and props. MCT Tour Actor/Directors will conduct rehearsals throughout the week.

Auditions will be held on Monday, November 30 (3:45-5:45) at the Redvers School Gymnasium. Rehearsals start Monday evening following the audition and will continue Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday from tentatively from 3:45 to 5:45 and 6:15 to 8:15 at the Redvers School. Dress rehearsal and performances will be on Saturday, Dec 5th. Most cast members will be required for the full rehearsal time, but typically, the younger children will be done in a shorter time. Those auditioning must have a clear schedule for the entire week if selected, be able to attend all rehearsals required for their role and be available for all scheduled performances. A detailed rehearsal schedule will be distributed at the conclusion of the audition. There is no guarantee that everyone who auditions will be cast in the play. As in 2024, there will be pre-registration with registration due by November 24th. Other than a strong commitment by participants and family, there is no fee for participants in this week-long opportunity of learning and entertainment.

The final performance will take place on Saturday, December 5 at the Redvers School Gym. Tentatively we have two show times scheduled at 4:00 and 7:00. Tickets will be $10 per person per show.

More information, including registration forms, will be available later in November through Redvers School and the Redvers Arts Council. Be sure to follow both on Facebook. For more information, you may contact Robin McIntyre at Redvers School or Graham James (Redvers Arts Council) at (306) 452-7124.

DOWN TO THE ROOT

GARDENING ESSENTIALS

GOING WITH THE FLOW

Now that the freezing temperatures are settling in for good, the tarps are on the golf course and the rink is buzzing again, we can sit and think about what we planted and loved this crazy gardening season and what we want for next season.

The weather this last season was one that tested every patient you had left and every emotion. The WIND, wow, I didn't know the wind would make me cry but holy it tested me like no other. I'm sure it was that for all of you also. After ten years I have seen lots of ups and down but never wind like that. I talked to Mother Nature and tried to be nice and give peace offerings, then I would get angry and call her bad names, then I would just go with the flow, even when the flow was flowing 100km/h. But we all survived with the odd plant casualty that couldn't quite stay strong in the wind.

Some of you had the hail storms, big and small. Wherever those storms happened I was thinking of you and send out garden prayers. Some of you survived with the natural pruning and plants bouncing back, some of you had to do some replacements. Then no heat except for two weeks, that felt like we lived on the side of the sun, which wasn't fun either. Lol Either way everyone had some frustrations this year with their gardens, and there was no way to control it. The good thing is the watering schedule was much easier with the rain, but even that was too much.

So cheers to all the gardeners that survived the 2026 Gardening season.

The real MVP's of 2026 is our Farmers. Whether you are a small or large farming family, you did it. It wasn't easy for you but your community is proud of you all and giving you all a standing ovation. Now what will 2027 have in store for us??

From My CORNER to Yours

Well, here we are in November already! I'm not quite sure where the year has gone, but somehow we are getting closer and closer to the end of 2026. It seems like just yesterday we were welcoming spring, and now we're starting to think about Christmas!

First off, can we talk about that Halloween weather?! What a beautiful day we had! I honestly can't remember the last time we had such a nice Halloween. Usually the little ghosts and goblins are bundled up in winter coats, toques and mittens, but this year Mother Nature certainly treated us! It was wonderful to see everyone out enjoying the evening without having to brave the cold.

November is always a month that makes me stop and reflect a little. With another year quickly coming to an end, it's a good time to look back and appreciate the people, memories and little moments that make life special. Sometimes we get so caught up in the hustle and bustle of everyday life that we forget to appreciate the simple things.

Of course, November 11th is a very important day as we pause to observe Remembrance Day. It's a day to honour and remember the brave men and women who served, those who made the ultimate sacrifice, and those who continue to serve our country today. It's also a reminder that the freedoms we enjoy every day should never be taken for granted. I hope everyone takes a moment, whether at a local service or simply in quiet reflection, to remember and give thanks. Lest We Forget.

And speaking of gratitude, I want to take a moment to thank each and every one of you who continues to support Covering the Corner. Whether you're a loyal reader, a contributor, an advertiser, or someone who sends along a photo, story or community announcement, you all play a part in keeping this little newsletter going. I truly appreciate your continued support and encouragement. It's what makes putting this newsletter together each month so worthwhile!

Before we know it, the Christmas decorations will be coming out, the shopping lists will be getting longer, and the holiday hustle and bustle will be in full swing. I know some of you probably have your Christmas shopping finished already (and to those people, I am a little jealous!), while the rest of us will be wondering how Christmas managed to sneak up on us yet again!

As we head into the final couple of months of the year, I hope you find a little time to slow down, enjoy the small things, and appreciate the people around you. Life gets busy, and sometimes it's those everyday moments that turn out to be the best memories.

Until next month, stay warm, stay thankful, and enjoy all that November has to offer!

From my corner to yours, Rhonda

SIDEWALK AND ACCESSIBILITY IMPROVEMENTS

The new sidewalks and accessible ramp at the medical clinic are complete. This project received a $12,000 grant through the Enabling Accessibility Fund's Youth Innovation component, with support from our Youth Accessibility Leader, Katie Eilers.

Maintenance is working to fill the unfinished area between the sidewalk and the grass with topsoil. Please be aware that the ground will remain soft while it settles, even after filling.

You may have noticed that the concrete drainage swale in front of the medical clinic was removed because its elevation was incorrect. A temporary asphalt swale has been installed until a permanent correction can be made next year.

New sidewalks have also been poured at the Redvers Activity Centre. Two grants through the SGI Provincial Traffic Safety Fund are supporting these improvements:

- Inclusion Sidewalk Installation, -$50,000 for new sidewalks.
- Warren Street Traffic Safety Enhancement Initiative -$40,354 for flashing signs, crosswalks and speed bumps.

We're grateful for this funding and appreciate everyone's patience as the remaining work is finalized. Please use extra caution around both locations, stay on the paved sidewalks and follow posted signs and marked barriers.

THANK YOU

We would like to extend a heartfelt thank you to the Redvers High School Art Class and Mrs. Whitney-Paul Joseph for painting our beautiful Remembrance Day crosswalk. Your creativity, hard work and time have created a meaningful tribute in our community as we honour and remember those who served. We truly appreciate your contribution to this special project.

We have noticed that the paint has already begun to wear, and we're exploring other paint options to help this meaningful tribute last longer.

WATER TREATMENT PLANT UPDATE

The water treatment plant upgrade remains on schedule! Exterior siding and masonry work are progressing as crews prepare to enclose the building for winter. Work is also continuing inside and will carry on through the colder months. If everything continues as planned, the upgraded plant is expected to be fully operational by this time next year, or a little sooner.

For regular progress updates and photos, visit redvers.ca/water-treatment-plant-updates.

The latest utility billing was the first to reflect the quarterly infrastructure fee increase from $50 to $200. We recognize this is a significant increase for households and businesses, and we appreciate your understanding as our community invests in essential infrastructure.

We also recognize that construction fencing at the Recreation Centre has reduced available parking. Thank you for your patience throughout the hockey season as work continues. What's HAPPENING THIS WEEK?

We continue to post our "What's Happening This Week" update each Sunday to help everyone keep track of what's going on around Redvers.

If your organization, club or group has an upcoming event that you would like included, or if you are worried we may have missed something, please reach out to the Town Office. These posts are generally created the week before and scheduled to be posted on Sunday, so please provide your information the week prior whenever possible. As we wrap up another busy month, we would like to wish everyone a wonderful November!

We hope this beautiful fall weather sticks around a little longer so we can all continue to enjoy the sunshine and warmer temperatures before winter settles in. Thank you to our residents, businesses, and community organizations for your continued support and for helping make Redvers such a wonderful place to call home!

NOVEMBER "GRATITUDE"

by Janet Dauvin

For me, gratitude isn't just a feeling; it's something we put into action. Being an active part of our town brings me immense joy. Whether it's serving alongside dedicated neighbours as a Lions Club member, taking the stage and sharing laughs with our Redvers Adult Drama Club, donning a red costume to help out with Winterfest, or helping out at local community events, stepping up to lend a helping hand to someone in need doesn't just support the person on the receiving end; it builds a bridge that holds our whole town together. When I look around at my daily life, I realize that my greatest blessings aren't things. They are the people and the place I call home. It's the kind of place where faces are familiar, greetings are genuine, and you never have to walk far to find a friendly smile.

That is why the true magic of a small town lies in its people. Having great neighbours means more than just sharing a property line. It means knowing there is always a friendly wave across the lawn, a helping hand when snow needs shovelling or something warm from the oven brought to the doorstep just because. That shared spirit creates a safety net of kindness that turns a collection of houses into a home.

And that sense of togetherness shines brightest through local involvement.

The Adult Drama Club: Step onto the stage with an adult drama group, and you quickly discover it's about far more than memorizing lines. It is a shared space of laughter, vulnerability and creative play, where a group of everyday residents transforms into storytellers, bringing art, humour, and connection to friends and neighbours in the audience.

The Lions Club: Service is the cornerstone of community spirit, and participating in organizations like the Lions Club offers a powerful way to give back. Whether organizing fundraisers, supporting local families, or working on community projects, working alongside dedicated volunteers brings a sense of propose and pride.

Community Events: From summer and winter parades to tournaments, market gardens and other local happenings, events brings everyone together. They are the moments where people of all ages cross paths; memories multiply, and a collective pride take center stage.

Among all the traditions that mark the year, few match the joy of the annual Winterfest. Stepping into the role of Mrs. C is a profound privilege. Putting on the velvet suit and sharing the stage means stepping directly into the heart of childhood wonder. Looking out into a crowd of bright eyed children and seeing their faces light up with pure awe and excitement is an experience that stays with you forever. Being Mrs. C isn't about playing a holiday character, it is about holding space for joy, tradition, and the magic of the season for every family in town.

Living in a small community reminds us that life is richest when shared. The time invested in local clubs, the time put into organizing events, and the simple act of being a good neighbour all weave together to create a vibrant, warm atmosphere. To belong to a place where you are truly seen, where community spirit thrives and where you can help bring delight to others is something to cherish every single day. This November, I am deeply thankful for the chance to contribute, create and care alongside people who make this small town feel like one big family. And for that I am grateful!

REDVERS WILDLIFE ARCHERY CLUB

Submitted by Stacy Cameron, President/JOP Coordinator

The Redvers Wildlife Archery club is gearing up to have their Annual AGM on October 8™, 7pm at the Legion Hall. All parents, members and anyone interested in joining are welcome to attend.

The club had a good number of archers last year, ages ranging from 7 to adults over 60. We held 2 fun 3D shoots, a Mock JOP Shoot (Junior Olympic Program), which is open to the neighboring towns, and we took roughly 30 archers to Prince Albert in April for the indoor JOP Championships for youth archers ages 6-21 and the Indoor Provincial Target Championships for all archers no matter what your age is. We were able to bring a few medals home and are very proud of all our archers that participated. We had one of our coaches participated in the Outdoor Provincial Target Championships back at Prince Albert in July. We are pleased to report that a medal was also brought home for that shoot, as well as a bunch of new knowledge about Outdoor Target shoots in general.

If you or someone you know are interested in archery, or want to volunteer to help in anyway, you can reach out to any of the coaching staff or executive, we are always looking for new members and helpers.

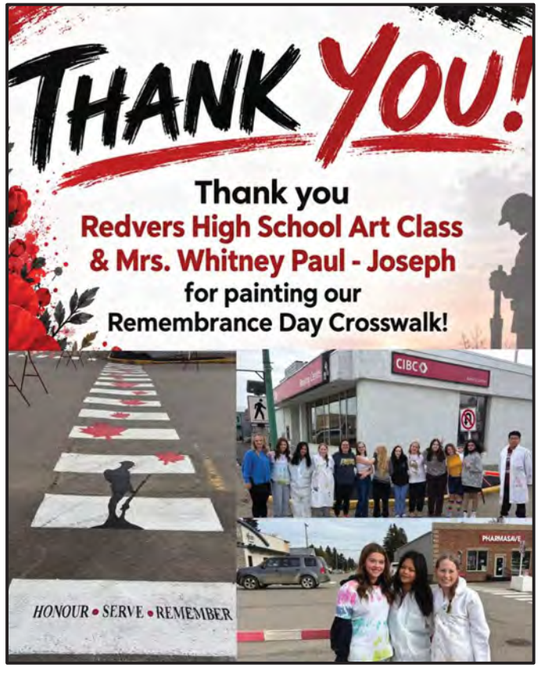

We look forward to another great year!

BELLE PLAINE IN REDVERS STAGE ON NOVEMBER 29

With the very well received Jeffery Straker concert in September behind us, the Redvers Arts Council is eager to present another concert at the Golden Age Centre this fall. The Arts Council is proud to bring Western Seer recording artist Belle Plaine to Redvers.

Belle Plaine has been touring western Canada promoting her new album, The Weather, since its release in September. Its official release day coincided with Terri Clark's recent concert in Estevan where Belle Plaine and band opened Clark's show with a strong set of songs from the new album, some Belle fan favorites, and a few well-chosen cover songs.

Belle Plaine's music may be hard to define as it straddles between country and folk with some more modern elements highlighted on The Weather. Regardless of the genre, Belle Plaine (aka Melanie Hankewich) has a smooth voice that delivers and serves the song, whether original or cover. Kelly Jo Burke of CBC radio explains "If Patsy Cline and Blossom Dearie had a love child she would sing like Belle Plaine. Belle's voice is old timey and jazzy. It has twang, crystal bells and swing. You listen to this voice, and all of a sudden your cheatin' heart has a very dry martini in hand, and you're hearing something both timeless and brand new."

The new single from the album is the title track, "The Weather." It leans into its steel guitar fueled upbeat country vibe under a story of observations of street life from a bedroom window. The lead song "Acting Tough" is a reflection on a rebellious teenager. "Little Black Bird" is bluegrass reflection on the wonders of prairie nature.

At the Redvers concert, Belle Plaine will be accompanied by guitarist Bryn Besse and percussionist/guitarist Jeff Romanyk. This band is a tight musical combo with all members singing and harmonizing with Belle. Jeffery Straker fans will recognize Bryn Besse as he accompanied Jeffery at his recent Redvers Arts Council concert in September. Fans of Blake Berglund may recognize Belle Plaine as Blake's wife and Western Seer business partner. The Redvers Arts Council were proud to present Blake in concert this past January, but this show will be Belle's first Redvers concert appearance.

Tickets for the Nov 29 concert are available for $25 in advance and $30 at the door. Tickets are available at Redvers Town Office, Redvers CIBC, and through several Redvers Arts Council board members. Call (306) 452-7124 for more information.
